GIVES ALLEN'S STORY ABOUT YOUTH'S DEATH

Lawyer Claims Defendant Tried to Avoid Conflict With Donaldson TELLS ABOUT QUARREL

Norristown, Pa.—(P)—Counsel for Edward Allen, charged with the murder of Francis A. Donaldson, told the jury in Allen's trial today that "it is the right of any individual in defense of his life to take the defense methods necessary for that purpose." The statement was made by William T. Connor, counsel for Edward, who killed Donaldson with a shotgun in the Allen apartment in the fashionable Green Hill Farms hotel, Nov. 9, last.

Allen killed Donaldson after a quarrel over Donaldson's alleged relations with Allen's 18-year-old sister, Rose E. W. Allen. In a statement to the police, read in court yesterday, Allen said Donaldson had been the cause of the quarrel.

The commonwealth closed its case before noon and the defense immediately plunged in to present its side of the circumstances of the killing.

"We will show that the act of Eddie Allen," said defense counsel "was caused by an intense love for Allen's old father and an intense desire to protect a sister and save her good name."

Mother Died in April

"We will show the Allen's lived in Philadelphia in peace and contentment. Mrs. Allen died last April. Rose was a sweet, respectable daughter of the household."

"And then Donaldson came. A change came over Rose and conditions changed in that house. We will show that as a result of that change on the afternoon of Nov. 9, Eddie said to his sister: 'Rose, there's something we got to talk about. You know father is not in good condition and I want to talk over what he said last Friday about 2 o'clock in the morning.'"

"The father had gone to Rose's room at that hour and found Donaldson there. He asked Donaldson to withdraw and Rose slapped his ear and Donaldson beat him and said: 'His night clothes.'"

"Eddie said to Rose 'that wasn't fair.' And she answered 'what do you think you are, God almighty?'"

"The boy said 'no you keep Skinny out of here and if you keep him out of here we'll keep father with us longer.'"

"Rose said to him 'if I tell Skinny what you said about keeping him out of here, Skinny will make you look like a fool.'"

"Then he said 'well, Rose, I tell you one thing, I'm not going to let you be treated in the way he has been.'"

"And he made some remark to Rose about what he'd do if this man persisted."

"He talked then with his father and they sat down to dinner. Just then Rose passed and said she was 'going to Rose Sykes' house.'"

Went to Hotel

"They expected her to come back that night, but she went down stairs and arranged with Donaldson to take her to the Bellevue-Stratford hotel."

"They finished their dinner and sat down to read."

"While they were there, bothering no one, the two men, bent on aggression, saying they were going to fix things up, came in."

"This boy Eddie was spoken to by Donaldson, who said 'at last I've got you here.'"

"Lucas (A. G. H. Lucas) said 'we've come to settle something and we're going to do it.'"

"Eddie said 'I'm sorry we can't talk about this. I'll have to ask you to go,' and Mr. Allen also asked them to do."

"Eddie knew, as he told his sister, that there had been much chaff and that his amateur boxer as he would with him in a race, so he wanted to avoid trouble and went to the telephone in the hall. Donaldson grabbed him by the coat lapel, threw him around, punched him in the jaw, and then this man, with his prowess, fell upon him and began to beat him."

"This brute Lucas went over and took the old man and struck his knee behind his back and struck his knee into him and threw him bodily in a chair. The boy got up, hit at Donaldson and ran to the telephone in distress calling for help."

Charges Attack

"While there in a defenseless position with the receiver in one hand, this boxer came up and smote him twice, as hard as he could on the jaw, causing blood to spurt from his mouth and go on the telephone instrument."

Connor said that young Allen then sought to find Morris Wood, proprietor of the hotel, or a policeman. He was dissuaded from bringing a policeman into the hotel because of the

Vote On Mellon Due Before Night

France Asks World Police Force To Assure Security

Concrete Proposal Offered by Tardieu at Disarmament Conference

Geneva.—(P)—Concrete proposals for establishment of an international police force to guarantee the security of the world were presented formally to the world disarmament conference today by Andre Tardieu, French minister of war and head of his country's delegation to the conference.

Although today's meeting was originally called solely for the election of officers, President Arthur Henderson did not stand on technicalities. He accepted deposition of the French document as "in order," although general debate was not scheduled before the conference until next week.

The French declaration, presented with a sudden gesture which took the assembled delegates by surprise, dealt at great length with technical details of armaments and national defense.

M. Tardieu particularly outlined France's wishes with regard to reduction of airplanes, tanks, big guns and other instruments of aggressive warfare.

It was at the end of the day's brief session that Tardieu sprang his surprise by asking for the floor for a brief declaration.

"The bureau of the conference having been constituted," M. Tardieu began, "I have the honor on behalf of the French delegation to place on the table of the conference a concrete and constructive proposal of the French government bearing on disarmament."

After the French plan had been presented today's plenary session adjourned until early this evening.

Agents Raid Home Here, Find Still

Two prohibition officers late yesterday afternoon raided the residence of Herman Winters, 114 E. Commercial-st., where they found a small still, about 20 gallons of liquor, and two barrels of mash. Winters was taken to Shawano where he was arraigned before U. S. Commissioner C. B. Dilleit this morning. He waived preliminary hearing and was bound over for trial at the next session of court there. He furnished bonds of $500.

At Winters' home this afternoon it was said that the agents dumped out a part of the whisky and the mash and smashed the still.

A deputy from the office of the federal marshal at Milwaukee late yesterday afternoon placed a padlock on the bar room of the soft drink dealer of Henry Klehl, 732 W. College-ave. Mr. Klehl said that only the service bar room had been padlocked. Klehl's place was raided last September along with several other Appleton saloons and his case, on a charge of violating the prohibition laws, is now pending in the federal court at Milwaukee.

Federal agents last Monday afternoon arrested Arthur Wacklin, proprietor of the Milwaukee House at Black Creek, on dry charges. He was arraigned at Shawano the same day and was bound over for trial. His bond was set at $500, which was furnished.

The raiding squad claimed it discovered a 50 gallon still in the building, 15 gallons of mash, 42 gallons of whisky, two gallons of kuenmel, two gallons of wine, two gallons of gin and two half barrels of beer.

INQUIRY STARTED IN STABBING AT PLYMOUTH

Plymouth.—(P)—A man giving the name of Jim Banner, 35, was in a hospital here today, a stab wound in his abdomen and two men giving their names as Dan Kipp, 60, and Joe Sieracki, 50, were held without charge as police investigated the stabbing.

Banner told authorities he was attacked by two men as he walked along a highway last night. He said he could give no reason for the attack. The three had been living together in a shack near here.

URGES WET PLANK IN G. O. P. PLATFORM

Washington.—(P)—Senator W. Warren Barbour of New Jersey, announced today he would urge the adoption of a wet plank in the 1932 platform.

Barbour, who succeeded the late Dwight W. Morrow in the senate, made public his stand in a telegram addressed to Edgar A. Knapp of Red Bank, N. J., who had asked for his position.

SENATE GROUP IN APPROVAL OF NOMINEE

British Government Gives Formal Approval to Appointment of Envoy

BULLETIN

Washington.—(P)—Andrew Mellon was confirmed today as ambassador to England.

London.—(P)—The British government gave its formal approval late this afternoon to the appointment of Andrew W. Mellon as United States ambassador to the court of St. James, succeeding General Charles G. Dawes.

This formality put the final seal of approval on an appointment which met with expressions of the highest satisfaction from every section of the British public, including officials and the press.

Washington.—(P)—The senate foreign relations committee unanimously approved the nomination of Andrew Mellon to be ambassador to Great Britain today, within an hour after President Hoover forwarded the name to the senate.

The committee out of deference to the veteran secretary of the treasury held a special meeting to report his name.

Senator Reed (R., Pa.) immediately brought the nomination back to the senate and confirmation of Mr. Mellon as ambassador to the court of St. James was expected before night-fall.

Of all Mellon's critics in the senate, only the newcomer, Long of Louisiana, has promised a fight. He announced himself opposed to Ogden Mills also, and had some support there, but the administration men predicted approval of both overwhelmingly.

Mellon is preparing to turn his duties over to his undersecretary and close associate very soon. He hopes for at least a week's vacation in some warm southern spot and then will have business affairs to settle. He said he did not expect to sail for London for nearly a month. Treasury business meanwhile is continuing without a ripple of change.

BARNEY DREYFUSS DIES IN NEW YORK

Pneumonia Sets in After Operation to Claim Life of Baseball Magnate

New York.—(P)—Barney Dreyfuss, president of the Pittsburgh Pirates of the National Baseball league, died today in Mt. Sinai hospital at 11:40 a. m. following an operation for a glandular trouble. He would have been 67 years old his next birthday.

Dreyfuss was operated on Jan. 6 and although he rallied for a time his strength was not equal to the task.

Mrs. Dreyfuss and their daughter, Mrs. W. E. Benswanger, have been constantly at his bedside since the operation and were with him when he passed away. Mrs. Sam Dreyfuss, widow of his son, also was at the bedside.

Pneumonia set in yesterday, the first complication since the operation, and the end then was seen as inevitable.

Benswanger, treasurer of the baseball club, who also was with his father-in-law, said he planned to take the body to Pittsburgh tonight with burial probably Sunday or Monday from the Dreyfuss home.

Dreyfuss had been actively connected with baseball since 1884, first being affiliated with a semi-professional team at Paducah, Ky.

Dreyfuss always was a power in National league councils, staying with the National league through various battles with the American league and later the Federal, or out-law, circuit.

He arranged the first post-season series in 1903 between members of the National and American pennant winners, a series that since has grown into the colorful "world series."

BROOKLYN NEGRO HELD IN SLAYING OF CHILD

New York.—(P)—A 51-year-old Negro moving van helped faced arrest today on a charge of suspicion in the garrotting of five-year-old Florence McDonnell. He is Frederick O. Hicks, of Brooklyn.

The child's body was found yesterday in a cellar near her home in Brooklyn. Rubber covered radio wire was bound tightly around her small, smooth-skinned neck. She had been missing since Wednesday.

Throughout several hours of questioning he steadfastly and vehemently denied any knowledge of the killing. He said he knew the McDonnell family.

Hicks was arrested, however, after telling police he had seen golden-haired Florence walking along the street late Wednesday afternoon.

NEW RACKET SEEN IN TELEGRAM FOR FUNDS

Green Bay.—(P)—Belief that a new "racket" was tried on a resident of the town today by officials investigating reports of the death of Margaret Bogdon, 31, in Miami, Fla., and a wire asking for money to bring the body here.

Joseph Bogdon received the message that his sister had been killed in an automobile accident at Miami from a "Sybil Jack" of the Everglade hotel in that city. The telegram requested money by wire to pay costs of transporting the body to Green Bay.

Communications with Miami officials revealed that they had no reports of Miss Bogdon's death.

PUBLISHER DIES

432 JOBLESS LIST NAMES WITH LEGION

Veterans Strive to Speed Up Registration at City Hall Quarters

With a week's work nearing a close, Oney Johnston post of the American legion has attempted to speed up registration of Appleton unemployed men and women by adding another man to the registration staff.

At noon Friday there were 432 persons registered, 53 of whom are women. A total of 500 registrants is expected before Saturday night.

Another plea to Appleton's unemployed men and women to hurry their registrations has been issued by the legion. The names of all men and women who want jobs must be on file if they are to be placed in the "man-a-block" scheme for finding work.

Workers in the registration office again pointed out Friday morning that many men—heads of families receiving city aid—have not registered. Just what the effect of their failure to at least make an effort to get jobs is undetermined.

The list of women who have registered is about half the estimated number of unemployed, it is said. Cards have been sent to women on the Appleton Women's club list of unemployed asking that they register at the city hall if they have not done so.

Few Women Register

Realizing that women probably do not care to stand at the city hall until they can be registered, legion officers have announced that they will be taken care of as far as they make their presence known by Miss Helen Arens, assisting in registration. She has been making a round of the council chamber and halls to immediately contact women who may want to register.

Complaints have been made to legion men that registration has not been going fast enough. The veterans regret this, but point out that sending men into strange homes to work is a job that places a lot of responsibility on the legion, and that a careful record must be secured of each applicant.

They have asked persons registering unemployed men to take their time with registrants so when placement are made there will be little if any complaint about the workers. The legion feels that a thorough questioning of unemployed men and investigation into their past jobs will be assurance that there will be few complaints.

12 PLANES BURNED IN $75,000 HANGAR FIRE

Chicago.—(P)—Twelve airplanes were destroyed today in a fire that leveled a $75,000 hangar of the Continental Airways Inc., on the municipal airport. Officials estimated the damages at $175,000.

A series of gasolene explosions that occurred as the flames reached the tanks of the planes made it difficult for firemen to get near the blazing structure, but an adjoining hangar of the American Airways, seriously threatened for a time, was saved.

Continental Airways operates a passenger line between Chicago and Washington, D. C., by way of Cleveland and Pittsburgh. Two of the burned planes, valued at $41,000, were used on this run. The others were privately owned and stored in the hangar.

10 WITNESSES REMAIN IN FUR RING INQUIRY

Sault Ste. Marie, Mich.—(P)—Ten of the 23 witnesses originally subpoenaed remained to be called today before Judge Lester S. Moll, who is conducting a grand jury investigation of an alleged $1,000,000 bootleg fur ring.

Samuel Brando, Sault fur dealer, was sentenced to 30 days in jail yesterday when he was adjudged in contempt for failure to bring to court records of his business.

Among those remaining to be heard are costguardsmen, a Mackinac supervisor and fur dealer, and a lower Michigan man, Jacob Kauffman of Cheboygan.

TANKER'S DEATH LIST REMAINS AT SEVENTEEN

Marcus Hook, Pa.—(P)—The number of dead in the explosions and fire which yesterday wrecked the oil tanker Bidwell was definitely established at 17 today when the single missing man, who was believed to have perished, reported to the ship's owners.

He is A. B. Selch of Houston, Texas, master of the tanker. He was believed to have died in his quarters or to have been blown overboard and drowned. He was safe on shore visiting friends, however, during the explosions yesterday morning.

SEN. LEWIS FAVORED FOR U. S. PRESIDENCY

Chicago.—(P)—Supporters of Senator James Hamilton Lewis of Illinois, for the Democratic presidential nomination have thrown his hat into the ring.

They said yesterday petitions were being circulated in his behalf to be filed Saturday with the secretary of state at Springfield although candidates for county, state and national positions have until Feb. 22 to post their intentions.

Petitions in behalf of former Senator Joseph I. France of Maryland, Republican presidential aspirant, were also being passed around here.

ASKS INVESTIGATION

Washington.—(P)—Representative McFadden (R., Penn.) today introduced a resolution calling for a congressional investigation of the Carnegie foundation, which he charged is dominated by "internationalists."

Air Battles Begun In Far East Strife

By the Associated Press

Chinese airplanes have gone into action on the Shanghai front and in the first real engagement of the campaign shot down one Japanese plane and forced two others to land inside the Japanese lines.

This was only an incident in the fighting which still was going on in Chapei and about the forts at Wusung. Japanese planes bombed the forts again but the Chinese still were holding on when the air squadron withdrew.

Japanese ships landed 1,000 blue-jackets to reinforce the men bombarding Chapei from the Hongkew district, and it was reported a brigade of Japanese infantry would arrive tomorrow.

The U. S. S. Chaumont reached Shanghai with 1,200 American infantrymen and about 100 marines, bringing the total American force to about 6,000 men.

Up in Manchuria Harbin fell to General Tamen, the Japanese leader who marched up from Changchun and engaged in a series of battles with the Chinese under Chuang Chao. The actual occupation was accomplished without bloodshed but it was preceded in the night by a terrific artillery bombardment.

Reports from that area said Edward Hunter, correspondent for an American news agency, had been captured by Chinese troops a week ago and still was missing.

At Tokyo Japanese officials indicated that if there are to be any further negotiations with the soviet powers which offered a plan to end the hostilities in China, the next move is up to the powers.

At Loyang, new temporary capital of China, Wang Ching-wei, the Chinese premier, asserted China never will sign treaties prejudicial to her own interests and will continue to resist Japanese aggression.

SPECIAL TERM OF LEGISLATURE ENDS

Only Two Bills Still Before Governor for His Approval or Veto

Madison.—(P)—The special session of the 1931 legislature officially began history today with a sine die adjournment.

Two of the remaining bills passed at the session are outstanding and Governor LaFollette has six days to act upon them. One is the $5,000,000 unemployment relief bill and the other, the congressional reapportionment act, reducing Wisconsin's districts from 11 to 10 by placing Congressmen John M. Nelson, Madison, and Charles A. Kautz, Watertown, in the new second district.

General LaFollette has been out of the state this week on a speaking engagement but was expected back today or tomorrow. He probably will sign the relief bill soon after his return and is expected also to sign the reapportionment measure.

The final adjournment was taken without ceremony. The two houses were reduced to skeleton sessions for the last time, most of the members having gone home long since. All business in the way of passing legislation was cleaned up last Friday.

REPORT 21 MISSING AFTER TWO VESSELS COLLIDE; 6 SAVED

New York.—(P)—Twenty-one members of the crew of the fishing schooner Eleanor Nickerson of Boston were reported missing following a collision with the steamer Jean Jadot 355 miles east of Halifax today.

A radio message from the Jean Jadot to the Lloyd Royal Belgian line said the fishing schooner was sunk and that six members of the crew of 27 were rescued.

The message, relayed by a radio station at Rockland, Me., said: "Collided and sunk this morning fishing schooner Eleanor Nickerson of Boston at position 43 05 north and 64 45 west. Rescued six members crew, 21 missing. Expect arrive Quarantine Saturday evening."

TROOP TRAIN IS BOMBED BY TOKIO PLANE

Heavy Bombardment Continues Over Wide Front In Shanghai District

FORTS STILL TARGETS

Chinese in Chapei Reported to Have Received Heavy Reinforcements

(Copyright, 1932, Associated Press)

Shanghai, China, (Saturday)—(P)—Summing up the results of the past 24 hours, fighting, foreign military observers agreed today that the Chinese holding Chapei had pushed back the Japanese a little, improving their position slightly.

The furious bombardment with machine guns and heavy artillery went on without interruption early this morning on a front which stretched from the North Station in Chapei and scattered along the Whangpoo river clear down to the Woosung forts, 16 miles from town.

Planes were playing an important part in the engagement. One Japanese ship bombed a Chinese transport train moving into Chapei, killing an undetermined number of men. One bomb wrecked a steel car, scattering the bodies of Chinese soldiers along the track. Before that they had bombed Chienju university, wrecking one large building and setting fire to two others.

The master of a British steamer which came in Friday evening said he had seen a Japanese plane down in the Yangtsze river beyond the Woosung forts. The pilot was in the cockpit badly wounded.

Japanese planes swooped about the Chinese forts at Woosung, guarding the mouth of the Whangpoo 15 miles below Shanghai, after a two-hour bombardment of Chinese still were holding on.

For more than 24 hours those forts have been under heavy fire from the air and the Japanese on the river. Repeatedly the Japanese have asserted they were reduced to a pile of scrap iron, but with each new day the bombardment has been resumed.

It was considered significant that thus far the big guns of the fort have not gone into action, but this is probably because those guns are obsolete and of no use in such an engagement as this has been.

There was a widespread belief the Chinese in Chapei had received heavy reinforcements, and it was known a force of 1,000 Japanese blue-jackets were landed during the day. A brigade of the Japanese army was expected tomorrow.

Chinese Planes Busy

Chinese airplanes took a more important part in today's action than at any time hitherto. One Japanese plane was shot down, but it was not altogether certain how this was accomplished. Chinese sources here said anti-aircraft gunners had brought it down but the aviation headquarters said it was a victory of a squadron of Chinese planes over three enemy ships. This report said two additional Japanese planes had been forced down behind the Japanese lines.

A report from the Japanese naval command to Tokio said the naval forces ashore had suffered nearly 10 per cent casualties since the fighting began. The total number of dead and wounded was placed at more than 200, including four killed and twenty wounded yesterday.

Within 100 yards from the headquarters of the International Red Cross the Chinese Ninotchka army, the Associated Press correspondent came upon the smoking skeleton of one of the Japanese bombing planes, which had been brought down in flames as it swooped low to drop explosives on the headquarters.

3 Bodies in Wreckage

There were three charred bodies in the wreckage of the plane. A group of Chinese soldiers stood about in high spirits over their success with their ancient equipment. Junk hunters were working fast removing every piece of metal on the ship, although no attempt had been made to remove the bodies of the Japanese airmen. The Chinese claimed two other planes were disabled in the same raid.

The United States army transport Chaumont and seven United States destroyers steamed into Shanghai during the day in the thick of the battle.

The Chaumont carried 1,200 American troops of the Thirty-first infantry from Manila. It also carried about 1,000 additional marines. The new forces bring the total United States strength here to almost 6,000 men.

Four Japanese airplanes began the third successive day's bombardment of the Chinese Woosung forts which guard the mouth of the Whangpoo river 16 miles below Shanghai. The forts have been under almost continuous fire by big guns from the warships and aerial bombers since Wednesday. The flares bombed the forts today for two hours and then withdrew with the Chinese still occupying the strong-

Milwaukee Undertaker Under Fire At Hearing By Health Officer

CHARGES ARE AFTERMATH OF BODDY DEATH

Firm May Lose Its License if Charges Against It Are Sustained

Madison—(P)—Ralph C. Ferriek, Milwaukee undertaker, today appeared at a hearing before Dr. C. A. Harper, state health officer, to show cause why his license should not be revoked. Attorneys questioned witnesses at length concerning the death of Mrs. Anna Boddy, Milwaukee, who died from the effects of an illegal operation.

The Ferriek undertaking firm conducted the funeral of Mrs. Boddy. Later, at the direction of investigators of the state board of health, her body was exhumed from the cemetery at Glenwood City, Wis.

Out of the investigation grew charges against Dr. Edward Werner, former Oshkosh physician, who last October was convicted in Milwaukee on accusations of having performed an illegal operation. He was sentenced to serve four to seven years in the state prison.

Testimony before Dr. Harper today was given largely by Clyde R. Pritchard, employee of the Milwaukee Motor Delivery company which operated hearses and ambulances for the Ferriek firm.

Pritchard said that on Feb. 3, 1931, between 10 o'clock p. m. and midnight, he was directed to get a body at an apartment on Jackson-st., Milwaukee.

At the Jackson-st. apartment, he testified, he met Ralph Ferriek and other employees of the Ferriek firm. He was directed into a bedroom to get the body.

The chair, he testified, was placed beside the bed and the body was placed in it in a sitting posture. A coat was thrown over it, and with the belt of the coat it was strapped into the chair, he said.

A man stood at the bottom of the stairs watching the street, with instructions to notify those within if pedestrians passed. Pritchard continued. Then the chair and body were carried into the hearse, he said.

Pritchard asserted that in the bedroom he detected the odor of a strong disinfectant. His suspicions were aroused and later, he said, he told Ferriek that circumstances pointed to an illegal operation. He testified that Ferriek told him not to worry, that the coroner had been notified. Pritchard added that he had called many bodies, but that this was the first time in his experience that a body was carried in a chair.

The state board of health was represented by Assistant Attorney General J. E. Messerschmidt and Deputy Attorney General F. M. Ryland. Ferriek's counsel was David M. Wilkie. Wilkie asked Pritchard whether he had ever issued a worthless check. Pritchard admitted he had, but denied he had ever driven an automobile without the owner's consent.

Pritchard was asked whether he had first been directed to go to Shorewood for the body, but said he had been directed to go directly to the Jackson-st. address.

Ferriek was scheduled to testify later.

MR. AND MRS. OGDEN MILLS—The new secretary of the treasury and Mrs. Mills are seen here as they appeared at a recent ultrasmart social event.

MELLON AND MILLS, BOTH FAMOUS, LEAD MYSTERIOUS LIVES

Neither Old Nor New Treasury Head Knows How Rich He Really Is

Once under fierce attack in Congress as a stockholder who would benefit under war claims legislation, Ogden Livingston Mills, slated as Andrew W. Mellon's successor as secretary of the treasury, appears likely to inherit a good measure of the antagonism held towards his predecessor.

Possessor of inherited millions, widely distributed in industrial and utility companies, Mills bids fair to become another man of mystery in the treasury's high office.

What will he do about his personal fortune to conform to the requirements of a cabinet officer, who must not profit directly or indirectly as the result of legislation?

There are many striking parallels in the careers and personalities of Mellon and Mills. Both are patricians by inheritance and nature. Both immensely wealthy. Both are divorced. Mills remarried in 1924, but Mellon never did.

Mills has made great progress towards political affability, a development that Mellon found impossible. But both have been subject throughout their Washington experience to the subtle antagonism and dislike of the rough plainsmen from the west who for the most part have dominated Congress.

Closely identified in the major financial programs of the past years, both Mellon and Mills are almost unknown generally to socio-political Washington. Mellon's place always has been in the background. Mills, his executive, has been an impersonal adjutant who never has waited but in hand for Garner or Borah, but has come with quick and determined demands.

What will happen to Mills in the light of an upset and Democratic Congress? Will he go the same mysterious way of his erstwhile chief, or will he emerge to become a personal power, an out-in-the-open successor to the "greatest secretary of the treasury since Alexander Hamilton"?

At the outset of the Hoover administration they said over the telephones at Washington: "Three presidents have served under Andrew W. Mellon."

But when the exciting administrative days of the depression swept in on the shy old gentleman who had piled up his immense surpluses out of the United States budget, even the dullest observer about the capital recognized that Ogden Livingston (Ozzie) Mills, the pink-checked, cigar puffing patrician from Harvard's gold coast, had become the dominant figure in the Treasury Department.

Emerging from New York as a silk stockpiling political winner, Mills had come to Washington four years before as the dictatorial, rather snarling scion of an immensely wealthy old family.

Like Mellon, Mills has been under fire in Congress.

From the start in Washington, Mills found it hard to deal with such free and easy leaders as Garner, Borah and the veterans. He liked them by his unimpeachable sublimeness. Now he largely has overcome this instinctive trait, has grown affable, has won power.

His major accomplishment was the winning of legislation permitting his short-term financing plans which steeled the hard-pressed treasury in depression days. Hoover sent him to France following adoption of the new tariff bill to see reaction there.

Of immense value to the administration in winning support for the debt moratorium program he always has been a prime favorite with Hoover and is credited with dictating many of the president's policies.

Because of his immense fortune, widely distributed in American industry and utility concerns, Mills is confronted with the problem of readjusting his investments to meet the rigorous requirements of his office as secretary of the treasury.

THINKS MISTAKEN IDENTITY CAUSE OF DRY LAW CHANGES

Milwaukee—(P)—W. Frank Cunningham, deputy prohibition administrator, said today he believes charges that Edward E. Evans, dry agent, "is in the whiskey business" are based on mistaken identity.

Cunningham recalled a resemblance between Evans and a well known bootlegger arrested in Kenosha last summer. He said John Wilder of Kenosha, who pointed out Evans as a man known to him as "Tony," a confederate of Kenosha liquor producers, probably confused the two men.

A complete report of the accusation and Evans' denial has been forwarded to Co. F. J. Herbert, administrator for Wisconsin, Illinois and Indiana, Cunningham said. Wilder was held in $1,000 bond on charge of permitting erection of a still in a house he owns at Kenosha.

SCOUTS TO DELIVER LEGION CIRCULARS

70 Youngsters Will Accompany City Mail Carriers in Post Drive

Seventy valley council boy scouts at 7:30 Saturday morning will accompany Appleton mail carriers on their routes, distributing circulars in the employment campaign of the Oneey Johnston post, American Legion.

Three scouts will accompany each carrier, according to M. G. Clark, scout executive.

Hundreds of circulars will be delivered. The circulars announce the purposes of the drive and ask families to cooperate with the legion in carrying out the post's "man-to-block" plans. The legion is asking each family in a block to find work around their homes for two hours each until May 15. For this work they are to pay men 40 cents an hour and women 30 cents per hour.

SANTA FE RAILROAD TO SPEND OVER 12 MILLION

Chicago—(P)—The executive offices of the Santa Fe railroad announced today that the company expected to use between $12,000,000 and $13,000,000 during 1932 for capital expenditures, mainly for additions and betterments. The road also expects to continue the work of constructing the new line from Boise City, Okla., to Las Animas, Colo.

"This company has been able to maintain its property up to standard during the past year," said the announcement of the Santa Fe, "and is abundantly supplied with equipment."

TEACHER COMMITTEE MEETS HERE SATURDAY

Members of the constitutional committee of the Northeastern Wisconsin Teachers' association who will meet at Conway hotel here Saturday morning are Frank Younger, principal of McKinley junior high school; H. Thieson, principal of Fond du Lac high school; C. C. Bishop, superintendent of schools in Green Bay; Miss Lucille Osborne of Green Bay. The committee will discuss changes in the constitution of the organization and the place for future conventions. At the present time, all conventions are held in Oshkosh instead of the various cities in the district.

Because of his immense fortune, widely distributed in American industry and utility concerns, Mills is confronted with the problem of readjusting his investments to meet the rigorous requirements of his office as secretary of the treasury.

JAPS TRESPASS ON RUSS ZONE OF INFLUENCE

Entry Into Harbin Valued as Outlet to and from Far East

By the Associated Press

The fierce spotlight focused upon the Sino-Japanese struggle for mastery of Shanghai has thrown into the shadow the last march of Japan's adventure in Manchuria.

When General Jiro Tamon led his column of stocky Japanese warriors into Harbin today he completed a military program that began with a quick thrust at Mukden, the capital, last September and reached its climax with the capture of Chinchow on New Year's day.

In so doing Japan for the first time definitely trespassed on that ever-dwindling Russian "zone of influence," of which Japan is the center.

Harbin, second largest city in the "three eastern provinces" and having a population equal to that of Akron, Ohio, is located on the banks of the Sungari river midway between Mukden and the Siberian border. It is the headquarters of the Sino-Russian Chinese Eastern railway—the connecting link between the Trans-Siberian and the South Manchuria lines—a shipping terminal of the first rank, a manufacturing center and the hub of a rich farming country.

Wealth and Poverty

Harbin is a city of contrasts. Well-fed Chinese merchants rub shoulders with poverty-stricken "white Russian" refugees. Glittering cars contrast with filthy mud huts. Abject poverty challenges the comfortable wealth at every step. Chinese in the overwhelming majority but there is a substantial colony of Russians—"red" and "white"—and a scattering of Japanese, Americans and Europeans.

Harbin represents the last vestige of that unofficial suzerainty which Imperial Russia exercised over Manchuria until Japan stepped into the picture in the war of 1904-05. Soviet Russia values it highly as an outlet for its products to and from the far east and would not relax its influence without vigorous steps.

In her advance on Tsitsihar last November Japan was careful not to interfere with the operation of the Chinese Eastern railway, mutually managed by the Chinese and Russians. Recent weeks have seen a noticeable change in her attitude.

After railroad officials had refused to allow military movements, Japan warned Russia ten days ago that she would be responsible for any delay in moving troops over the line from Changchun to join a pro-Japanese Chinese army in fighting off a loyal Chinese faction.

A week ago Moscow informed Tokyo that she might be compelled to protest against the entry of Japanese troops into Harbin, but Japan continued her advance on the city. General Tamon subsequently fought several severe engagements with the army of Ting Chao, commander of the railway guards, and the city fell.

With Harbin in her possession, Japan now has her flag over every vital city and town in Manchuria from Tsitsihar in the north to Chinchow in the south.

In carrying out her program Japan has insisted that the lives and possessions of her people in Manchuria . . . as in Shanghai . . . are menaced by lack of a stable government. She has promised that when order has been restored she will withdraw her forces on the legal south Manchuria zone and allow Manchuria to conduct its own affairs.

Speaks Here

Dr. Herbert H. Parish, noted stewardship expert, who will give a series of lectures at the Methodist church next week. The theme of the first Methodist Episcopal church of this city next week. The meetings, primarily for the education and evangelization of the Methodist congregation, are open to the public.

Dr. Parish, a stewardship specialist, is a member of the Northern Minnesota conference and of the National Brotherhood staff specializing in the St. Paul area. He is considered a gripping speaker and an organizing genius.

He will arrive in Appleton in time to speak briefly at the Missionary tea at the church Tuesday evening. The stewardship council will meet with him after the tea.

On Wednesday evening he will talk on Stewardship of life to the young people of the church, and on Thursday evening his message will be for adults. The meeting, to be held in the small auditorium, will start at 7:30 and last one hour.

The Men's club will sponsor a special supper Dr. Parish will speak on the Methodist Manhood Movement, after which there will be a forum discussion. Sunday morning he will deliver the sermon at the morning 11 o'clock worship service.

Each day Dr. Parish will have consultation hours at the church office. A book display will be on exhibit, and special literature will be circulated at all meetings.

RIEHL NOT GUILTY OF DISORDERLY CONDUCT

Aaron Riehl, town of Center, was found not guilty by a jury in municipal court yesterday afternoon of disorderly conduct. The jury retired at 3 o'clock and returned with a verdict about half an hour. Riehl was arrested by Frank Wagner, dance hall inspector, following a fracas at a dance at Twelve Corners on Dec. 27.

OVER 3 MILLION SPENT FOR AID IN MILWAUKEE

Milwaukee—(P)—Funds disbursed by Milwaukee-co for relief and pensions in 1931 totaled $3,318,849, it was reported today by William J. Carey, county clerk. The tax levy for the purpose was about $1,335,000, making it necessary for the county to borrow $2,000,000 to meet current expenses until April. At the close of 1931, 20,339 families were on the county poor relief rolls.

OWNERS OF UNLICENSED CARS CAN BE ARRESTED

Despite the fact that Theodore Dammann, secretary of state, has requested sheriffs and police officials throughout the state not to enforce the automobile license law until March 1, there is no legal barrier if police desire to make arrests because of failure of car owners to display the 1932 licenses after Feb. 1.

However, both Sheriff George P. Berg and Police Chief George P. Berg said they intend to comply with the secretary's request and make no arrests until after March 1. The secretary of state requested police to postpone enforcement of the act because of the present economic situation.

Rudolph Morder, 334 W. Summer-st. submitted to an operation Thursday at St. Elizabeth hospital.

Woman Flying To Arctic In Hunt For "Ghost" Ship

Portland, Ore.—(P)—Crowning a life of thrills with an adventurous and hazardous flight into the northland in quest of "ghost" ship laden with rich furs, Mrs. Edna E. Christofferson of Portland has set off for the uncharted Arctic ways.

The sportswoman is accompanying William H. Graham, veteran Alaskan pilot, on a search for the Baychimo, abandoned Hudson's Bay company ship, which last fall was caught in ice drifts in the Arctic. They were to leave Seattle today for Yakima, in central Washington, where skills will be attached to their plane.

Mrs. Christofferson, 46, is the widow of Silas Christofferson, a flier when aircraft consisted mainly of bamboo struts and fabric. She is a licensed pilot and has a private airport, dedicated to her husband who was killed 12 years ago in a plane crash in San Francisco.

She has won trophies as the finest woman marksman in the United States, and annually participates in rifle and pistol tournaments. In 1929 she outshot the pick of New York policemen on their own range. She operates an X-ray laboratory and technical department and says she is the first woman of that profession.

Shortly before taking off here with Graham she declared "I can and am prepared to do anything a man could do on a hazardous trip of this kind. If necessary I can even roll my own cigarettes."

The Baychimo has not been seen for more than a month. When last reported it still was held fast in the great ice packs, and was drifting toward Siberia. Some believe that before the two treasure seekers reach the vessel it will have been crushed and sunk in heavy storms. Graham expects to find it between Wainwright and Point Barrow.

HINT MRS. JUDD HAD ASSISTANCE IN 2 SLAYINGS

Arizona Court Session Is Adjourned Because of Legal Holiday

Phoenix, Ariz.—(P)—A hint that Mrs. Winnie Ruth Judd had an accomplice in the gruesome slayings of Mrs. Agnes LeRoy and Miss Hedvig Samuelson, her two "best friends," has been injected into the woman's murder trial.

There was no court session today, due to Arbor Day, but defense counsel was in conference, drawing its lines to battle the testimony given yesterday by Dr. Joseph Catton, Stanford university professor and alienist.

For four hours, Dr. Catton was on the stand as the prosecution's chief alienist. He told the jury in Superior Judge Howard C. Speakman's court that Mrs. Judd intimated to him she was shielding some one.

"Why don't you tell the complete story? Possibly it would do you some good," Dr. Catton testified he told Mrs. Judd during his examination of her. Her reply, he said, was: "I can't see where it will do me any good and it might harm others."

Named Halloran

Later Dr. Catton said Mrs. Judd, replying to the question, "did you do any driving in the house the night Mrs. LeRoy and Miss Samuelson were murdered?" said:

"The only one who drank was Jack Halloran."

"She quickly placed her hand over her mouth," Dr. Catton continued, "and refused to go into any more details at this point."

The Stanford professor declared Mrs. Judd told him there would have been "any Ruth Judd case without Jack Halloran." Halloran, wealthy Phoenix lumber dealer, figured in the early investigation of the slayings. He declared himself "innocent, though perhaps indiscreet." He was summoned by the state as a witness but so far has not been called.

Tennessee have identified Halloran as the person over whose actions Mrs. Judd was jealous, and as a friend of all three women. The state contends jealousy was the motive for the killings. The defense has argued insanity.

Dr. Catton had been announced as the last rebuttal witness for the state, but County Attorney Lloyd Andrews said he might call additional witnesses tomorrow.

It was expected the case would reach the jury early next week.

Three Cherry Pie Bakers In Contest Here Tomorrow

The old refrain, "Can you bake a cherry pie, my girl Mary?" will be answered Saturday morning when three prize cherry pie bakers from Door and Calumet meet at the Appleton Woman's club to prove their prowess.

Miss Eileen Schommer, Chilton, and two contestants not yet decided from Door-co will compete in tomorrow's baking which is one of the preliminary contests being held throughout the country for National Cherry week from Feb. 15 to 22.

Mrs. Anna Waterhouse, Miss Catherine Spence, teacher of home arts at Appleton high school, and Mrs. S. C. Shannon are the three judges in the contest. The three contestants represent the prize cherry pie makers in their communities, having been chosen through elimination contests. The winner of this contest will be sent to Madison for the state contest, Feb. 13. The state winner will enter national competition in Chicago Feb. 22. The contest tomorrow begins at 9 o'clock with judging at noon.

ZERO HOUR NEAR AT HAND IN HAWAIIAN WAR GAME OF NAVY

Acts of Hostility Between Rival Forces May Be Opened Tomorrow

BY CAPTAIN C. M. AUSTIN (Assistant Chief of Staff, U. S. N.)

Aboard U. S. S. California, Somewhere-at-Sea—(P)—In less than a day the zero hour will be upon us. The terms of our military-naval exercises set the two forces down well apart in the beginning and also draw a dead line between them that may not be crossed until the zero hour.

Admiral Richard Leigh's Blue forces, ships of the battle force plus army and marines under Major General Craig, put to sea from the ports of southern California Feb. 1.

Major General Brant Wells, commanding the Black army and navy defending the Hawaiian Islands against our attack, is informed fully of the speed of our ships and knows to the hour when we can reach the deadline, 1,778 miles from our starting point, cross it, and traversing the intervening 500 miles, deliver the first blow of our campaign. Acts of hostility are in order tomorrow, but the physical limitations of the two forces still serve to keep them apart.

Some losses must be met by any force seeking to take the Hawaiian Islands. Our present movement is only an exercise, a game. Suppose it were actual war? What would be done that we, the Blue Players, do not plan to undertake?

Chemical Warfare

I venture to say that any agency of war examined thoroughly before the attacking troops were ordered ashore would be chemical warfare. I do not want to be understood as advocating the use of chemical agents, nor of suggesting that our nation or any other would employ them in the situation that is simulated in this exercise. However, it would be futile to deny that under the real or seeming law of necessity, chemical agents will be employed in future wars as in past ones.

Contrary to general belief, chemical warfare has not been outlawed by treaty. The only nations to obligate themselves voluntarily not to use toxic gases and liquids, asphyxiating and poisonous, are five Central American republics, none of whom possess a chemical industry to supply their needs in war time. Other nations have signed conventions, protocols and treaties outlawing chemical warfare as we understand it, but with the exception of a treaty forced on Germany, none have become effective because of the failure of all to ratify.

Given the situation in war time, consider the heavy casualties we have foreseen, assume the attacking force believes itself offered a chance of victory without the slaughter of its own men, and what is your answer?

The answer of course is that it is impossible to be motivated by emotions which do not exist, and we must aside the subject with the hope that it may never arise in earnest.

Gargle Aspirin for Tonsils or Sore Throat

A harmless and effective may be prepared by dissolving three to five Bayer Aspirin tablets in a glass of water. Gargle thoroughly, allowing a little trickle down throat. Repeat in hours as necessary.

Be sure you use only the genuine Bayer Aspirin, marked with the Bayer cross; beware of substitutes.

FIND HIDE'S DEATH WAS FROM NATURAL CAUSES

Investigation in Case Dropped After Coroner's Jury Verdict

The investigation into the death of Edward Hidde, 42, at Manawa several weeks ago, was closed this morning when a coroner's jury at New London brought in a verdict of death from natural causes after they heard a report from the state toxicologist at Madison to the effect that no poison had been found in Hidde's vital organs. The jury heard the report read by L. D. Smith, district attorney of Waupaca-co, and then retired and returned immediately with the verdict.

District Attorney Smith called the inquest and started an investigation after relatives reported to him, following Hidde's death, that they were suspicious that he had been poisoned. They said he had received threatening letters which caused him to leave New London and move to Manawa several months before his death. Hidde's vital organs were removed and sent to Madison for the coroner's inquest was adjourned pending the receipt of a report.

Hidde was one of the state's important witnesses in the trial of Edward Riske, 48, New London, charged with the murders of Louis Hoffmann and Henry Kopitzke of New London last June. It was charged Riske put strychnine in moonshine liquor which caused the death of the two men. Riske was tried for the murder of Hoffmann and convicted but Judge Bryon B. Park set the verdict aside and ordered a new trial. Riske is now free on bonds of $5,000.

CIRCULATION DROPS AT CITY LIBRARY

Attribute Fewer Borrowers to Use of New System Now in Effect

Although the circulation at the Appleton public library during January was almost 1,000 more than in December, it dropped 3,665 from the figure of January, 1931. It is thought that part of this decrease can be attributed to the installation of the new self-charging system at the library.

January's circulation figure was 18,347, of which 13,771 were fiction, 4,132 non-fiction 244 unbound periodicals, 200 foreign books, 833 pictures, and 133 clippings.

A total of 431 new borrowers were registered at the library during the past month, while only 275 cards were cancelled. The total registration is now 11,474, of which 817 live outside the city limits, and five outside of the county.

New books added during the month numbered 328, but, chiefly through a wholesale cleanup in the children's department, 1,237 old books were withdrawn. The number of volumes now in the library is 35,041.

A new system of budgeting, the one used by the American Library association, has been introduced at the library.

PROGRAMS STRESS WASHINGTON'S LIFE

Meeting Tells Teachers of Rural Schools They Must Observe Anniversary

Emphasis on the life of Washington is to be made along with regular rural school activities during the next two or three months, according to bulletins issued to rural school teachers by A. G. Meating, county superintendent of schools. Poster, sand table and program activities are to be based on the life of Washington and the art of good citizenship is to be stressed, Mr. Meating says.

Every school must have a program this year on the life of Washington. There may be an afternoon program for children and an evening program for the community or the two combined either in the afternoon or evening. The community program may be held any time from Feb. 22 to March 15.

Schools within the Kaukauna area are expected to prepare exhibits for the mid-winter fair at Kaukauna and teachers within the Seymour and Bear Creek regions are urged to have their pupils enter poster contests being conducted with farm institutes at Seymour, Feb. 23 and 24, and at Bear Creek, Feb. 25 and 26.

Point Out Insanity In Family Is Not Disgrace

Madison — Ten thousand or more people in the state and county hospitals for the insane of Wisconsin are no disgrace to their families and their illnesses may have been caused much as other sicknesses. Mental diseases actually develop mildly, as in tuberculosis, and early treatment produces the best results, according to the bulletin of the Wisconsin State Medical Society issued today.

"The more than 10,000 people in the state and county hospitals for the insane are no longer looked upon by the communities as a disgrace," declares the bulletin. "These people are not possessed with the devil as was thought in the olden days. Mental disease is no more blameworthy than physical disease."

In order to sift out the cases that are easily curable, the State of Wisconsin has mental observation hospitals at Oshkosh and Madison where early treatment can be given to the poor. In many cases serious attacks have been prevented because the patient at the beginning of his difficulty was able to secure advice.

"Most physical disorders produce mental symptoms," continues the bulletin, "such as irritability, peevishness, delirium, or depression, and when these occur no one thinks either of disgrace or stigma. In what people call insanity the symptoms are, as a rule, exaggerations of normal behavior or mood. Generally the condition comes on through no direct act of the individual. Why, then, the thought of reproach? Why consider stigma?

"Through education and experience the people have corrected false ideas regarding general hospitals. They no longer dread them but make use of their facilities with increasing frequency and with growing confidence. No one thinks there is odium attached to treatment in a general hospital for surgical operations, or for pneumonia, typhoid fever, or other physical diseases. Why should there be any such thought regarding treatment in a hospital for mental diseases simply because the sickness affects the brain? People now realize that mental and physical disease are regrettable conditions which should be prevented, and that when they occur, both should be promptly treated and the sufferer afforded every possible assistance, encouragement, and support, and without thought of reproach in either condition.

"False notions of mental disease cause much unhappiness to the families of patients and result in positive harm to the patients them-

STUDENTS TO GIVE TARKINGTON PLAY

"A Trysting Place" Will Be Presented at Assembly Meeting

Appleton high school juniors will present Booth Tarkington's, "A Trysting Place," at the student assembly Monday afternoon. Miss Ruth McKennan is in charge of the play, which is the first of a series that will be given by students during the year.

Clinton Schmidt will take the lead in the role of Launcelot Briggs. Others in the cast are Helen Jean Rabb as Jessie Briggs; Esther Mae Kranhold as Mrs. Briggs; Sylvia Warner as Mrs. Curtis, a young widow; Irving Cameron as Rupert Smith; Robert Merrifield as Ingolsby; Joseph Burkes as the mysterious voice. The play is being given in collaboration with the English department of the high school since Tarkington's play is being studied by juniors in their English classes.

SEEK PLANT TO GIVE AUGUST PASTURAGE

One thing that Wisconsin needs is a late flowering fine stemmed strain of sweet clover.

That would likely be the near unanimous vote of Wisconsin stockmen who know from experience that green edible pasture plants are scarce in August, the month of short pastures.

There is good prospects that this great need is to be met by crossing late flowering selections with the best of the fine stemmed strains in pastures.

Carlson Kuck is the student manager of the performance and Maxine Goetes will have charge of the properties. The next junior production being planned is a junior talent day, scheduled to be given in about two weeks.

Brink, of the Wisconsin college of agriculture, has during the past three years selected individual white sweet clover plants having a fine stemmed leafy character that are resistant to insect injury and disease and if it is hoped that the desired variety or strain may be developed.

Appleton To Celebrate Diamond Jubilee First Week In May

DATES PICKED BY COMMITTEE HEADING EVENT

Program Also Calls for Observation of Washington Bicentennial

Dates for the joint city-wide celebration of the bicentennial of George Washington and the diamond jubilee of the city of Appleton were set yesterday afternoon for the first week in May by the special committee recently named by Mayor John W. Goodland, Jr. The committee which met at the city hall also adopted a program which calls for the cooperation of all Appleton's citizens in a week's event which probably will be the largest festival of its nature the city has ever had.

In addition to the week's celebration next May, the committee yesterday called on civic clubs to devote their programs during the week of Feb. 22 to commemoration of George Washington. Public and parochial schools also are urged by the committee to arrange special programs appropriate to the anniversary. All of the city's publicity agencies are being asked to devote time and space to a discussion of Washington during the week of Feb. 22. Stress will be given, in all these programs, to the week's celebration in May.

A special committee, headed by Mrs. Edgar V. Werner, will arrange for the observance of Washington's birthday on Feb. 22. Assisting Mrs. Werner are Mrs. J. P. Frank, A. G. Meating, H. H. Heible and Ben J. Rohan.

Selection Unanimous

In setting the dates for the week's celebration of the national and city birthday events, the committee pointed out that weather conditions in February would not be conducive to drawing the large crowds expected for the celebration. For this reason, a sub-committee reported, the first week of May was suggested and the full committee unanimously approved the selection.

The formal celebration will open Tuesday, May 3, and end Saturday night, May 7. Ministers of all denominations will be asked to devote their sermons on Sunday, May 1, to George Washington or allied subjects. They will be asked to call attention to the public celebration during the week.

The retail trades division of the Appleton Chamber of Commerce will be asked to cooperate by making this an attractive buying week to the end that more persons will be attracted to the city. Daughters of the American Revolution will be asked to assist, particularly in the preparation of the program of the program that have particular reference to Washington, so that they may be historically correct.

Tuesday, May 4, will be designated as Civic club day and the chamber of commerce, civic council and luncheon clubs will be requested to select a joint committee to take charge of the program for that day.

Schools In Program

Appleton public and parochial schools will take charge of the program on School day, Wednesday, May 4. On that day the city's schools will have charge of the entire program.

Thursday, May 5, will be designated as Fraternal day, and fraternal organizations will be requested to name a joint committee to take charge of that day's program.

Each of the schools will be invited to take charge of arrangements and the program for Friday, May 6.

The culmination of the week's program will occur on Saturday, Community day, the day for celebration of Appleton's diamond jubilee. The program for this day will be arranged by a sub-committee of the general committee. This program will include a program and entertainment of various sections of the city designated to attract a maximum number of visitors to the city.

Each day's program, the committee plans, will contemplate recognition in some special and unusual manner, the bicentennial of Washington and the diamond jubilee of the city. This may be done through the medium of pageants, public speakers, musical programs, parades, historical pageants, etc. Each day's program also is to be arranged to attract people to the downtown district, culminating with the evening program either in Lawrence Memorial chapel, Lawrence gymnasium, or Pierce park.

The committee also decided that a parade during the week, suggested for fraternal day, should consist of the following: a parade of the city designated to attract a maximum number of visitors to the city.

May Spect Queen

A festival queen may be crowned at the culmination of the festivities Saturday night if the special sub-committee in charge of arrangements for that day accepts a suggestion made by the general committee yesterday. The queen would be chosen in some public manner designated by the committee. On one day of the celebration a speaker of national renown will be brought to the city. Another committee is to be named to have charge of decorating the city especially for the week.

Another suggestion from the general committee is for the appointment of a special committee to arrange for a display of historical matter and Washingtonia in the display windows of downtown stores during the week of the celebration.

Five members of the general committee were named members of a sub-committee on committees by P. N. Delanger, general chairman. This committee will have charge of the appointment of sub-committee which will work with groups planning each day's celebration. The sub-committee will report progress to the general committee. Members of this committee on committees are Mrs. J. Goodland, Mrs. Frank, H. L.

INTERPRETER OF WALKER'S "JOKES" TO TRY OUT U. S.

Counte Serge Fleury Coming to America on Lecture Tour

Paris — (AP) — The suave, silver-tongued Frenchman who interpreted Mayor James Walker's wisecracks when he was in Paris last summer is going to the United States in February to make a few wisecracks of his own.

He is Counte Serge Fleury, press attache at the French ministry of foreign affairs, who is known widely on the continent as a lecturer and magazine writer.

The purpose of his visit — his first trip to the United States — is a lecture tour from the east to the west coast, but between times, he expects to spend a few social hours with Jimmy Walker.

He already has received a letter of invitation from a representative of the debonair New York mayor whose friendship he cemented last summer by glibly turning Walker's wisecracks into French "bon mots."

Counte Fleury, who has a distinguished war record, and has served the French government officially on foreign missions, hopes his tour won't be stamped as "propaganda" because of his connection with the ministry of foreign affairs.

"I'm making this tour because I want to see America," he said. "I'm not being sent by the foreign office, nor am I going to spread any French propaganda."

"But I'm certainly going to say a few words about France and the French, for I want the Americans to understand and like us. They are wonderful people; I want to see a real and lasting friendship cemented between them and the French. I believe this is absolutely essential to world recovery."

The lecture tour, which will begin at the French Institute in New York, early in March, will include Baltimore, Boston, Worcester, Providence, Philadelphia, Cincinnati, and San Francisco.

Davis, C. H. Huesemann and Mr. Delanger.

A financial committee is to arrange a budget and to make plans for raising funds necessary for the celebration. Members of this committee are C. A. Detman, chairman, T. H. Ryan, Seymour Gmeiner, John Neller and C. M. Doyer.

Catholic Church In Strict Ruling On Mixed Marriages

Will Consider Union Invalid Unless Children Are Reared as Catholics

Vatican City — (AP) — Marriage between Catholics and non-Catholics hereafter will be considered illegal by the church unless the children actually are educated as Catholics, a new and stricter ruling issued today by the congregation of the sacred office declares. Because of a belief that parties to such marriages often have disregarded promises that the children should be reared as Catholics.

The congregation decided that henceforth those who obtain the dispensation of the church for mixed marriage must take those promises seriously and that the church no longer will accept the plea that the hold. The big guns on the Japanese warships were silent today.

Chinese Lines Hold

Throughout a continuous roar of heavy shelling in Shanghai during the day the Chinese held their lines with bulldog tenacity. There was a widespread belief that they had received considerable reinforcements to strengthen their apparently impregnable defense.

The Japanese, growing anxious after nearly 24 hours of bombardment, turned their field guns on the North Shanghai station where the Chinese infantry line began, in a renewed effort to dislodge the troops there. A force of 1,000 fresh Japanese marines landed during the day and it was reported a brigade of Japanese infantry will arrive tomorrow.

Chinese guns hurled shells through out north Hongkong during the day, but United States marines said shells from the artillery fell within the residential area which they patrolled, endangering the inhabitants. They were unable to say whether the shells were from Japanese or Chinese guns.

General Tsai Ting-Kai, commander of the Chinese Nineteenth army, said a fleet of Chinese airplanes was expected to arrive from Nanking and would "put a stop to the Japanese monopoly of the air." He said they would be used only defensively, however.

Report Planes Arrive

Conflicting reports from west Shanghai told of the arrival there of a fleet of Chinese airplanes and said they had engaged the Japanese aviators in an aerial battle at noon, but United States marines said the Chinese claimed not only to have driven off the Japanese airmen, but to have brought down a second plane.

Japanese authorities denied the battle had taken place. The consensus of opinion here this evening was that the Chinese fliers arrived here and met the Japanese planes, but the result of the engagement was not known.

Chinese civil authorities said the Chinese fliers were "nearly" and that tomorrow would bring "something startling."

Fear from being perturbed by the terrific artillery and aerial bombardment to which they have been subjected during the last two days, the Chinese armies seemed a bit bored today as they saw things were going and officers expressed the wish the Japanese would offer the opportunity for a "showdown."

This was the attitude presented by General Tsai Ting-Kai and it borne out by observations behind the Chinese lines. General Tsai received the Associated Press correspondent at his headquarters two miles behind the Chinese front line. He is a young, middle-aged, somewhat diffident man, with sensitive features and narrow tapering hands—a far cry from the Chinese war lord.

Welcomes Showdown

The general manifested no respect for the fighting qualities of the Japanese bluejackets in spite of their advantage in equipment. "I'm interested to learn that the Japanese are sending a division of infantrymen to meet us," he said. "We will wait for them."

Shanghai or the international settlement or the Japanese troops need have no fear of a Chinese offensive, the general said with emphasis, pointing out that the Chinese are fighting a defensive battle only. He claimed emphatically the Japanese claim that Chinese soldiers precipitated the trouble by firing first, without provocation, on the Japanese bluejackets on the night of Jan. 28. The Japanese, he said, violated their agreement and invaded Shanghai without reason.

In marked contrast with the military stiffness of the Japanese headquarters of General Tsai were extremely informal. Members of his bodyguard were garbed in loose hanging blue uniforms and lolled about the room. His aides broke into the conversation frequently without so much as a salute. Firearms were conspicuous by their absence.

General Tsai has 20,000 troops on his payroll. Their average pay is reported to be $2.50 a month in gold.

Mr. and Mrs. Merrill Hopkins, formerly of 312 N. Clark-st., left Monday for Tokyo, Ill., where they will make their home. They were accompanied by Miss Beatrice Koletzke, sister of Mrs. Hopkins, who will visit there for a month.

Some of the suggested odd jobs are: Clean basement, house, attic, garage, yard; shovel snow; empty ashes; wash walls, basements, garages, cars, porches, windows; prepare and paint screens; paint floors, walls, basement floor and walls; take care of lawn, trees, shrubs, garden; take care of children; cook, bake, launder; run errands; repair fences, sidewalks, walls; clean chimneys; grade driveway; cleaning house, sewing; shop wood; set window panes; repair furniture, lawn mowers, carpet sweeper, etc.

Members of Onco Johnston post auxiliary, headed by Mrs. H. W. Miller, will meet at the city hall at 9 o'clock Saturday morning and prepare instruction material for the workers starting the Monday night survey.

At 1:30 Sunday afternoon the 230 or more legionnaires and business and professional men who have volunteered for the survey will meet at the Elk club and receive final instructions. There will be two men to a block and they will start the canvass at 6:30 Monday evening as bells ring, whistles blow and sirens shriek. At 9:30 they will have finished their jobs and report back to the legion headquarters with the pledges. It is expected that Tuesday the assignment of unemployed will get started.

complaints about failure to work, or complaints against attitudes of the workers.

Some of the registrants also are at fault when registrations slow up. There are many instances where the registrant fails to readily answer the few questions put to him or mumbles or fails entirely to answer. The registering officer then must repeat his question and often "pry" the information from the reluctant registrant.

Another type of person who slows up registration is the non-resident of Appleton. The legion's drive is for bona fide residents of the city. Applicants from neighboring villages and cities will not be considered.

Here Are Questions

Registrants are asked but a few more or less impersonal questions. Name, address, age, ward, telephone number, if any, years residence in Appleton, married or single, children, years at school, family income, trade, years experience, union, last place employed, and rate of wages, are among the questions asked. The registering officer then makes a few additional remarks regarding appearance and attitude of registrant.

While the unemployed are visiting the city hall to spend a few minutes waiting in line, members of Onco Johnston post are spending several hours daily outlining the job survey which starts at 6:30 Monday evening. It is pointed out.

At a meeting last night ward captains reported their plan for the survey. Every block in the city has been numbered, it was said, and names of every householder secured. The survey drive is being headed by a group of three men, Armin B. Schuerle, Harold W. Miller and August A. Arens.

At 6 o'clock tonight the ward captains will meet with legion directors of the drive and final reports on the ward lineups will be made. The meeting is being called at the Y. M. C. A. where a dinner will be served. It is expected the meeting will adjourn at 7 o'clock.

Scouts To Help

Tomorrow morning three boy scouts will accompany each mail carrier in the city as he makes his rounds and will distribute dogtags at every home. The dogtags will review the man-a-block scheme, ask householders to remain at home Monday night between the hours of 6:30 and 9:30, review the next householders can play in the project, and suggest jobs.

Some of the suggested odd jobs are: Clean basement, house, attic, garage, yard; shovel snow; empty ashes; wash walls, basements, garages, cars, porches, windows; prepare and paint screens; paint floors, walls, basement floor and walls; take care of lawn, trees, shrubs, garden; take care of children; cook, bake, launder; run errands; repair fences, sidewalks, walls; clean chimneys; grade driveway; cleaning house, sewing; shop wood; set window panes; repair furniture, lawn mowers, carpet sweeper, etc.

GIVES ALLEN'S STORY ABOUT YOUTH'S DEATH

Lawyer Claims Defendant Tried to Avoid Conflict With Donaldson

disturbance it might cause and the notoriety it might create.

Not knowing what to do at the instant, he remembered the gun at the home of his friend Roberts, said Connor, and thought that if he would get the gun he would frighten these men out.

After telling of the 12 mile trip to the Roberts' house to get the gun, Connor said Allen thought the men had left the apartment by this time and was proceeding to put the gun in a closet when he was "startled to learn that these men hadn't left the apartment. He heard Donaldson say 'there is there—there now' using a vile name. Now let's get him and give it to him and they came on him. He backed away; he thought he was going to be beaten again and his life would be in danger; he pulled the trigger. He pulled to frighten those brutes away from him, to save his home and to save his life, and that's how Donaldson was shot."

Allen's Statement

Norristown, Pa. — (AP) — The jury in the trial of Eddie Allen for his slaying of Francis A. Donaldson had before it today Allen's own account of the shooting, including a recital of how his debutante sister, Rose Allen, was betrayed.

The story was in the form of a statement the young society man made to the police a few hours after Donaldson died last Nov. 9 of shot-gun wounds.

The defense lawyers considered it so valuable to their side of the case that they had devoted their cross-examination of state witnesses almost exclusively to questions concerning its contents. They strove doggedly to get before the jury of two women and 10 men exceptions, at least, of the document.

District Attorney Stewart Nase had successfully blocked their efforts by frequent protests and objections.

He called Captain I. L. Mullin to the stand. He handed the detective chief a blue-bound document. He asked him if it was Eddie Allen's statement. He said it was. Nase told him to read it.

"On or about the second week in August, 1931," said the document, "Francis Donaldson wronged my sister who was 17 years of age."

Summoned by Father

"At the time I was injured in Saratoga Springs, N. Y., but my father got in touch with me and said there was a very serious matter that he wanted to consult me about."

"My father having had a stroke and being in very ill health at the time, he couldn't come with it, what with his financial reverse and the death of my mother in April."

"When I got home about the first of September, Francis Donaldson came to the apartment with his father and confessed in front of my father and myself and his father that he had wronged my sister."

"My father and I objected to his coming to see my sister, and when my mother was living, he despised him, and didn't want him to come around, and when he admitted to us what he had done to my sister, neither one of us, my father or I, had any desire for him to marry my sister."

"I didn't want the marriage, and Mr. Donaldson didn't want one, either, but we couldn't seem to keep them apart. So my father stipulated that he could see my sister a couple of times a week, provided he would get her home before midnight, until he had sufficient means to marry her, if they insisted on marriage later, to which I thoroughly agreed."

Explains His Actions

There were pages more of the same story. The youth's explanation of the actions for which the commonwealth asks a verdict of murder in the first degree in substance was this:

Allen drove 12 miles for his shotgun intending only to threaten Donaldson with it when he refused to leave his father, Horace Allen, and assaulting Eddie.

He loaded the weapon unconsciously, from force of habit.

He failed to call police when employees of the apartment hotel declined to eject Donaldson because the idea never occurred to him.

Donaldson "started for" him when he fired.

He told his sister he'd "blow Donaldson's head off" if he came to the apartment only to scare her in the hope she would cease bringing him there.

He said he never ordered Rose from the home, as she had testified.

CITY IN HAVANA IS BUILT BY HOMELESS

No Rent or Taxes to Pay in "Barrio Cubano de las Yaguas"

Havana — (AP) — Ousted from house and home in Havana, one still has somewhere to go.

The newest Havana suburb, "Barrio Cubano de las Yaguas," counts now some 400 houses and a total population of 1,170 persons, although its existence dates only from nine months ago.

As is the case with several similar but smaller settlements, notably that known as "Llega y Pon" (freely, come in and put it down), the "Barrio de las Yaguas" is open to all who have been ejected from their homes for non-payment of rent.

This is the only requisite for residence; certificate of election.

Four streets, named the Avenue of Independence, Avenue of the Widows, Avenue of Progress and Central avenue, run through the "city." And these streets are kept clean.

Tiny shacks, most of them built of "yagua," the fibrous tissue at the top of the royal palm tree, line the avenues. It is from the building material that the suburb takes its name.

Few of the residences are larger than four or five meters, although individual enterprise shows up in the form of gardens and balconies adorning several.

Interior Secretary Octavio Zubizarreta and Julio Izquierdo, chief of the Havana central district, were recent visitors to the "barrio," they made official the residents' choice of Juan Diaz Osme to serve as mayor and of Carlos Grandos as secretary. Osme's house, hence, is located in the central part of the city. The Cuban flag waves proudly above it, and all new arrivals must register there.

According to Osme, there has been no police case and no sickness since he became mayor. "My people," he said, "wish only to live quietly, completely disconnected from politics and the like, going about their various business, such as the selling of sweets, newspapers or old bottles."

Although no taxes are paid, the suburb has its own little school, where children of parents too poor to dress them properly for the municipal schools are taught reading, writing and arithmetic by Senoritas Celia Couso and Crescencia Torres.

BISHOP VISITS HIS SON IN APPLETON

The Rt. Rev. Frank V. C. Cloak, D. D., rector of Christ's Memorial church of Philadelphia, Pa., who was recently consecrated bishop of the Reformed Episcopal church, is visiting with his son, F. Theodore Cloak, 815 E. Franklin-st. Bishop Cloak has been given oversight of the synod of Chicago until the next general council in 1933.

He will participate in the unveiling of the tablet to the late Bishop Samuel Sallows, well known at Lawrence college and in Appleton, which will take place Sunday evening in the Bishop Sallows Memorial church Chicago, formerly St. Paul Reformed Episcopal church.

BREAKS RIGHT WRIST

Miss Edith A. Ames, 721 E. North-st., broke her right wrist when she fell down the basement stairs at her home Thursday noon. She was taken to St. Elizabeth hospital where it was set. She will go to the home of Mrs. F. G. Wheeler, 810 E. College-ave, Friday night to remain for the weekend. Miss Ames is resident of Daughters of the American.

General Tamon Occupies Harbin As Chinese Flee

Harbin, Manchuria — (AP) — General Jiro Tamon finally achieved the occupation of Harbin, last important stand of the Chinese in Manchuria, today after almost a week of sanguinary battles with the troops of General Ting Chao.

Although the Chinese stubbornly resisted the advance of General Tamon's brigade up to the last minute, the headquarters of General Ting were deserted when the Japanese finally occupied the city. Harbin is the headquarters of the Chinese Eastern railway, jointly owned by Russia and China.

The last stage of the Japanese attack was a terrific artillery bombardment last night in which several Japanese shells exploded near the headquarters building of the Chinese Eastern and caused Soviet officials of the railroad to hold an emergency meeting to consider the situation.

The Chinese placed two field guns in an open area directly in front of the railway headquarters and opened fire in reply to Japanese attacks. Japanese authorities said they thought the Chinese placed the guns there in the hope of embroiling Japan with Soviet Russia.

American, European and Japanese residents of Harbin were believed safe. Unit after unit of General Tamon's column marched into the city while other Japanese forces pursued the retreating Chinese toward the Russian border.

Harbin is the most valuable city in central Manchuria, second only to Mukden in population. It is the hub of the so-called Russian zone of influence in northern Manchuria.

Japanese airplanes bombed the fleeing troops of General Ting. Chinese troops were reported from Changchun, Manchuria, to be advancing toward Tsitsihar, hoping to take advantage of the fact that a part of the Japanese garrison there had gone to aid in the conflict of Harbin. Two Chinese infantry regiments at Koshan, northeast of Tsitsihar, which was captured by the Japanese last autumn, began the advance, dispatches said. Chinese cavalry units joined later.

LEAGUE GROUP AT STANDSTILL ON MANCHURIA

Chinese Delegation Anxious About Japanese "Extension of Warfare"

Geneva — (AP) — The Chinese delegation to the world disarmament conference today expressed anxiety over the "extensions of warfare" on the Shanghai front, while the council of the league of nations apparently was at a standstill in its peace program.

The council nervously fingered Article XVI of the covenant of the league, which authorizes league members to join in economic military sanctions against an aggressor.

W. W. Yen of the Chinese delegation, was restrained by several factors from advancing this theoretically most potent of the league's constitutional powers.

The first restraining factor was the knowledge that the American government looks askance at Article XVI, thus raising the possibility of restricted cooperation from Washington in composing the conflict.

Then, too, the Chinese wished to be given every opportunity for continued procedure under Article XV of the covenant, which provides for submission of disputes between members to the council, and council investigation of them. They felt, however, that little or no progress had been made under Article XV, and that in the words of a Nanking spokesman, "the time has come when we must have some action" against the Japanese.

"We have given the council two new arms for invoking Articles X and XV," this spokesman told the Associated Press, and if these arms do not enable the league to halt the Japanese we can furnish them with Article XVI. But we do not wish to do this unless there is a chance of accomplishing some good.

"Certainly if the council indicates it needs more authority than given by the articles now in effect, we are ready to advance to Article XVI."

Meanwhile, league headquarters still waited for Sir Eric Drummond's report on Shanghai.

The Chinese were angered today by a suggestion in unofficial French and other quarters that Japan be given a mandate over Manchuria.

ASK COURT TO RULE ON RAIL VALUATION CASE

If Supreme Court Upholds
Lower Court Work of Commission Will Be Setback

BY GEORGE E. DOYING
Washington—(CFA)—The railroad valuation work of the interstate commerce commission will receive a severe setback if the decision of the court of appeals of the District of Columbia at the new Haven mandamus case is sustained by the supreme court. The lower tribunal held that the commission was in error in refusing to include the value of the intangible right accruing to the railroad by virtue of its right to use the Grand Central terminal in New York and similar holdings.

In its valuation of the New Haven system the commission refused to include any allowance for the carrier's right to the use of the Grand Central terminal and its approaches in New York city and in the south station in Boston, but merely made reference to the extent and terms of such use.

The Grant Central terminal was included in the New York Central's inventory, and the South station in the Boston Terminal Co.'s inventory. This has been the commission's uniform practice, adopted in order to avoid duplication of values.

Appeal Taken
To compel an assignment of value to its right to the joint use, the New Haven road petitioned the supreme court of the District of Columbia for a writ of mandamus, which was denied, and an appeal was taken.

The court of appeals now has reversed the lower court and held that the New Haven's right must be valued and reported. It also held that the value directed to be found is not limited to a value for rate making purposes.

The court pointed out that rate-making is only one of a number of objects for which the valuations of the commission are made prima facie evidence. In this connection reference was made to consolidations, recapture of excess earnings, security issues and the division of joint rates. The court held that the statute requires the commission to value all property, "whether physical or incorporeal."

The question whether, when such values are once ascertained, they are to be included in the rate base, was not passed upon by the court. "This is a matter," it said, "we are not called upon to decide."

Your Birthday

WHAT TOMORROW MEANS TO YOU

"AQUARIUS"
If February 6th is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 8 a. m. to 9:50 a. m., from 2 p. m. to 3:15 p. m. and from 7:30 p. m. to 9 p. m. The danger periods are from 11 a. m. to 12:30 p. m. and from 5 p. m. to 6:20 p. m.

February 6th is shown to be a good anniversary for all those whose interests lie in the soil. Chances are shown for profit and extension to those interested in real estate. Love affairs and friendships are under beneficent influences. Difficulty with and through officials.

Children born on this February 6th will be proud and conscientious in their school work, and will have ambitions for their future. Responsibility will weigh heavily on their shoulders, and they will not shrink their duties. They will have a sweetness and fascination that will win many friends for them.

Born February 6th, you have much to be thankful for in the sweetness of your disposition. It is part of your happy nature to believe that which you wish to be true, and you are saved much grief by being willing to let "well enough" alone. Always looking through rose-colored glasses does not make you a practical person, and your ways are oftentimes incomprehensible to others of more exacting natures. You are a pirate on the sea of life, but are honest and true. For an unsuspecting person, you are not often "done" by any one. People somehow like to live up to the flattering estimation which you give them, and present the best side of their natures to you. You harm no one, and few will ever harm you.

You are very fond of amusements, and can always see the funny side of life. You are a born mimic, but you do not take off people in an unkindly way. Nothing furnishes you more enjoyment than a good joke on yourself. Any work which throws you in contact with the public would suit you. You make a favorable first impression, and are always natural and at ease. Your personality scores higher than your ability, and will carry you further. You are loving and demonstrative, and will be very happy in your home life.

Millions Of Trees Planted As Washington Memorials

Washington — Not in cold stone monuments but in millions of living trees, is the George Washington bicentennial anniversary to be observed this year.

And not only in the United States are these living monuments to be planted. Americans in many foreign countries are doing likewise.

Sponsored by the American Tree Association, the project to perpetuate the memory of Washington in trees has reached all corners of the globe. The association reports that more than 9,000,000 plantings have been registered so far and with the approach of Arbor Day in the various states, many more will be planted.

Cooperating with the United States commission for the celebration of the 200th anniversary of the birth of Washington, the American Tree Association is supervising this planting. Planting may be done by individual clubs or organizations, and as many trees as desired may be planted.

For trees planted the association issues a certificate showing that living monuments have been set up in memory of Washington by those planting them.

King Is Tree Donor
So far the movement has met with widespread enthusiasm in the United States. But Americans in foreign countries are taking to the idea, too.

Henry W. Shoemaker, American minister at Sofia, has planted two rare Balkan evergreens given him by King Boris III of Bulgaria. Joseph C. Grew, American ambassador at Istanbul, Turkey, has planted three black walnut trees. Charles Lathrop Pack, president of the association, has received information from South America that Fred Morris Dearing, American ambassador at Lima, Peru, and F. E. Libenow, consular agent at Charnaral, Chile, have planted trees to perpetuate the memory of Washington in South America.

Kyoto Imperial University, Kyoto, Japan, has announced intentions to plant several trees, and the Boy Scouts in Hawaii have sent in more than a hundred registrations.

Set Aside Entire Forest
In the United States, registrations have been reported from a single tree up to 640 acres. The latter planting occurred in Wisconsin, where the state federation of women's clubs voted to plant a memorial forest of that size.

Florida women have started a campaign to plant at least one Washington tree in every school yard in the state, following the proclamation of Governor D. B. Carlton on bicentennial tree planting.

Iowa is among the leaders in the tree-planting project. The association reports that more than 43,800 tree plantings have been registered so far. One of the outstanding plantings in the state was that of a thousand trees at Red Oak, near the Washington school.

Women Join Movement
Clubwomen activities in this respect are reported by Mrs. John Dickinson Sherman, in charge of women's activities at headquarters here.

"The clubwomen of the country are doing a great advance work on the bicentennial program," she says. "The report sent to me by the American Tree Association of the way they are registering tree planting is one of the largest phases of the program. Clubwomen in Florida, Mississippi, Ohio, Indiana, Arkansas, Pennsylvania and Texas have carried the tree planting message into all the schools."

An Italian Discovery

Drink Water Before Breakfast and Make
One Change in Diet
Only to Rip Off Ten Pounds in 10 Days

HERE is sweet music, in scientific tempo, for fat people's ears. "Eat more to grow thin."

Thanks to a unique Italian discovery, thousands of people are doing it. Losing as much as seven pounds a week, and building their health as well.

Here's the way. So if you want to get rid of some bulk, cut this article out and save it. Chances are, in a week, your friends will be wondering what you've been doing to yourself to get rid of the fat they used to tease you about.

What You Do

FIRST: As soon as you get up in the morning, put two tablespoonfuls of sparkling Brioschi Italian effervescent in a half glass of cool water; and drink it down while it is still effervescent. This tends to de-acidify the system before food touches the stomach.

NEXT: Make just one simple change in your diet. Eat DOUBLE the quantity you now eat of certain foods; and cut down on others. Here are the foods to double on; the ones to cut down on.

DOUBLE on these: Carrots, spinach, oranges, cabbage, lettuce, new turnips, white squash, sauerkraut, broccoli, fresh peas, apples, and all green vegetables. See how much of these you can make your stomach hold. Eat also your usual appetite's requirement of any lean meat. Beef, veal, chicken, etc., etc.

CUT on these: Eat bran or whole wheat bread instead of white bread or biscuits. For dessert have fresh

WOULD ELIMINATE RADIO ADVERTISING IN SUNDAY PROGRAMS

Bill by Badger Solon Hits
Commercialism in Broadcasting

(Post-Crescent Washington Bureau)
Washington—Radio advertising is hit in a bill introduced in Congress by Representative Thomas R. Amle of Elkhorn, who says "the listening public has a right to some voice in the type of program that is hurled into its homes."

Commercial announcements would be prohibited from the air on Sunday with the exception of an announcement of sponsorship of programs, which would be limited to one announcement an hour, however, under the provision of Amle's bill.

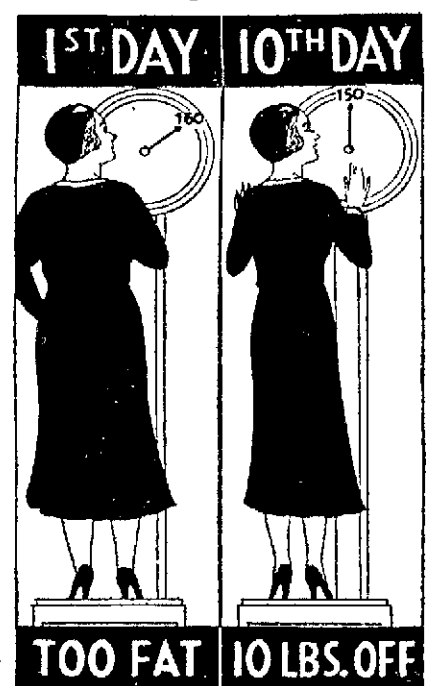

In support of his bill, Rep. Amle cited figures to show that although about a billion and a half dollars is invested in radio throughout the world, only about 2 per cent of this investment is in broadcasting equipment and the rest represents receiving sets. Furthermore, set owners pay about 90 per cent of radio operating costs.

This is in comparison with only 10 per cent paid by the broadcasters. Amle pointed out that being the case, he is convinced that radio fans would rather pay the whole bill if they escaped from "second rate jazz" and sales talk.

"The cost of time on the air over the chains has been constantly going up," says Rep. Amle. "An hour over the whole national hook-up now costs $20,000 and will probably soon be higher."

"In view of this fact, I do not see why they should seek to commercialize every minute on Sunday as well as on the rest of the week. Business men, who respect the sabbath. Why should not broadcasters be made to respect our finer sensibilities on that day of the week even planters, all you have to do is plant a tree in memory of Washington and register it on the American Tree Association's honor roll.

fruit instead of pastry. Cut down on butter but don't cut it out entirely.

BEFORE BED: Repeat two tablespoonfuls of sparkling Brioschi Italian effervescent in half a glass of water to again de-acidify the stomach. Don't think, either, that this is hard. It makes a really pleasant drink that tastes like lemonade, not like vile-tasting salts. So everything is easy.

The result of this dietary change will be that you'll really have more than you want to eat, yet will see fat go in a way you wouldn't have believed. And, you'll feel more active than you probably have for years. For the diet that takes off the fat, cut this article out and save it. The de-acidifier you use is called Brioschi Italian effervescent (pronounced Bree-oh-ky). You can get it at any drugstore.

SEE DECREASE IN DEATHS IN STATE

Madison—(AP)—A net decrease of 200 to 300 deaths in Wisconsin for 1931 as compared with those of 1930 is expected on the basis of death certificates received to date, the state bureau of vital statistics said today.

There were 30,488 deaths in 1930, according to L. W. Hutchcroft, chief statistician of the bureau. Death certificates for 1931 now in the hands of the bureau total 30,006 but usually approximately 200 certificates are delayed this time each year.

Tentative classification of the 1931 deaths shows a marked gain in the conservation of infant and maternal lives. Infant deaths now stand at 2,859, which is 280 less than though their earnings for that day be slightly reduced?

"The answer of course, is obvious. If we can improve the programs on Sunday this will be quickly carried throughout the week. Any such movement will be bitterly fought by those who have commercialized the air."

"If the members of Congress could be made to feel the sentiment of people regarding the abuse of the air, relief would come quickly. The federal government has full power over radio broadcasting."

CROWN LINKS BRITAIN UNDER

King George Becomes a
One-man Assemblage,
According to Statute

London—(P)—As a result of the passage of the statute of Westminster, King George, as king of Canada, may find himself agreeing to measures of which, as king of Ireland or Australia, he does not approve.

There is only one of the extraordinary situations which, in theory at any rate, could arise from the statute, which grants legislative independence to the dominions.

Britishers have been slow to realize the full implications of this document.

They knew, in a general way, that the dominions have been "freed" from the mother country for some time. But the knowledge that this freedom now has the most solemn legal force has come as a shock to those who had not appreciated the profound changes that have been taking place in the empire structure.

Dominions Independent

The statute makes it clear that, sentiment apart, the crown alone now links the empire together. Each separate member of the British commonwealth is a self-governing nation, free to make its own laws and in no way bound by any that may be enacted in London.

Moreover, each dominion may enter into any relations with a foreign power that it may desire, quite irrespective of the wishes of Britain or any other member of the commonwealth.

The Irish Free State is expressly included among the dominions in the statute. Ireland's relations with Britain are, however, defined in the treaty signed in 1922 and registered at Geneva, as are all treaties between independent members of the League of Nations.

Opponents of the statute argued in the house of commons, that a clause should be inserted saying that Ireland's inclusion gave her no power to denounce the 1922 treaty.

Government spokesmen answered that Ireland could denounce the treaty just as well if she were not included in it.

How a system, in which a single king is "advised" by the cabinets of half a dozen different countries, will function is a problem that is bothering students of constitutional affairs.

It is generally agreed that the importance of the crown has been greatly increased by the statute which in itself is a noticeable reversal of the trend of British history for centuries past.

Whether any two dominions will ever "advise" the king to take two totally opposing courses, or will use the statute as a means for breaking away from the empire, is a moot question among experts on basic laws.

For the present, the English people as a whole believe that the measure was necessary and that, now they have won their freedom from British parliamentary control, the dominions will be even more willing and contented members of the commonwealth than they were before.

TARIFF BILL LAUDED
BY CONSERVATIVES

Point to Duty on Foreign
Flour as Example of Benefits to Britain

London—(P)—Conservative supporters of the government's new general tariff bill, which proposes a 10 per cent ad valorem tariff on imports of most articles into the United Kingdom said today they were highly pleased with the measure.

Those interested in agriculture pointed to the proposed 10 per cent duty on foreign flour. Should the flour come in the form of wheat, which is exempt under the provisions of the bill, they pointed out that British farmers, who have complained for several years about the high price of feed for their stock would have a large supply available at a price which is by-products of milling operations.

Last year between $60,000,000 and $90,000,000 pounds of flour were imported. It is estimated that 70 per cent of milled wheat is turned into flour while the remaining 30 per cent is used to feed animals.

Morning papers forecast that iron and steel manufacturers, imported foreign flour, oats and barley would be among the articles appearing on the schedule for the proposed new 10 per cent ad valorem duties under the government's "tariff bill" proposed in the house of commons yesterday.

They predicted also that iron ore would be exempt from the provisions of the measure.

"Y" COMMITTEE PLANS
RELIGIOUS PROGRAM

A meeting of the religious work committee of the Y. M. C. A. will be held at 7:30 Monday evening at the association. The committee will outline a program of activity during the Lenten season. The group annually arranges for Lenten social meetings during holy week at various manufacturing plants.

Sustaining members of the association also is being planned according to George P. Werner, general secretary. The committee's work recently was made a year-round activity.

The Sidewalks of New York
East side, West side, all a-round the town, The

The colorful days when Manhattan youngsters danced to the playing of the hurdy-gurdy are over—but the sidewalks of New York still have a use, as this picture shows. Here you see the pavement turned into a rink by the hockey-conscious youths of today. And if you think the sidewalk is for pedestrians, you're mistaken! Note the goal with the burlap-bag knee padding.

SHANGHAI: THE JOINT PROPOSALS

The fog of war has lifted enough at Shanghai to disclose the main elements of the immediate problem. It appears that either through miscalculation at Tokyo or through the incompetence of Admiral Shiosawa the Japanese have got themselves in a position where their backs are to the International Settlement and in front and around them is a very large Chinese army. If they attempt to move forward they stand an excellent chance of being annihilated by the superior Chinese forces. If Tokyo attempted to send them reinforcements, it is likely that the Chinese would attack and overwhelm the Japanese at Shanghai before reinforcements could arrive, and in such an attack the Settlement might easily be destroyed and a civilian massacre ensue.

This situation seems to explain the request made by the Japanese Foreign Minister at Tokyo on Sunday.

AMERICAN SAINTS TO BE ANNOUNCED
BY PAPAL DECREE

Will Be Considered in Cases Before Congregation of Rites

Vatican City—(P)—Eight United States saints, three of them women, probably will be proclaimed from the cases under consideration by the Congregation of Rites.

Nine more from Canada and two from Mexico are before the congregation, a total of 19 for North America.

Of the Americans all eight were members of religious orders. Four were founders of orders. One was a bishop.

Seven Cities in List

St. Louis is advancing the causes of two. The other ecclesiastical proceedings originated in Chicago, New Orleans, Philadelphia, San Francisco, Indianapolis and Baltimore.

Monsignor John N. Neumann, Redemptorist, once bishop of Philadelphia, where he died in 1860, is nearest of all to beatification, the degree which precedes canonization.

His cause was begun in 1886. The Congregation of Rites has approved the proof of his virtues and is examining the evidence of miracles wrought through his intercession.

The other candidates for sainthood are:

Anna Elizabeth Seton, founder of the Sisters of Charity, died in 1821. Baltimore originated the petition for beatification.

Missionaries Named

Felix De Andrieu, Lazarist missionary, died in 1820, St. Louis.

Frances Cabrini, founder of the Missionary Sisters of the Sacred Heart, who died in 1917 in Chicago.

Francis Xavier Seelos, Redemptorist, born in Baltimore, died in New Orleans, 1887.

Magnino Catala, Franciscan, died in San Francisco, 1830.

Venerable Philippina Duchesne, founder of the Sacred Heart sisters in the United States, died in 1852. St. Louis originated the petition.

Theodore Guerin, founder of the Sisters of Providence, died in Indianapolis, 1856.

Many Italian Causes

North America has only a small number of prospective saints, compared with the rest of the world. The Congregation of Rites is examining petitions for beatification or canonization of 581 men and women. Practically half—271—originate in Italy. France is next with 116. South America is advancing 21 causes.

STATUS OF HOUSE
MATTER OF OPINION
TO U. S. CITIZENS

Is Neither Ridiculous Nor Fine as Its Members Are Led to Believe

BY RODNEY DUTCHER

Washington—Why does the House of Representatives seem so ridiculous?

Much could be written to demonstrate that it really is not as funny as it appears and other evidence might be presented which would tend to suggest that it is even funnier.

One reason the House always seems to silly is that nearly all its members take advantage of every possible opportunity to contend that it is the most intelligent, shrewdest, most companionable, hard-working, most upright group of nature's noblemen in all the world. Seasoned newspapermen shun interviews with representatives because so few of the latter can stick to the subject without breaking off into eulogies of their colleagues as a collective body.

And when the sessions end you will find the Congressional Record splattered with outbursts of doggerel in which congressmen vie with each other in rhythmically whooping the praises of the other 434 members.

Most visitors to the House galleries have seen the House as it ordinarily is when in session. They see from 10 to 30 per cent of the membership in its seats as a lone member stands in the well and pours forth his conception of wisdom. Sometimes the lone member drones his speech monotonously and some times he bawls with all the variations of tone and volume which distinguish the traditional flowery oratory of Congress. Sometimes he reads his words laboriously and sometimes he speaks without notes. Sometimes he knows what to do with his hands and sometimes he just waves them aimlessly.

But seldom does any other member pay attention to him—unless it is to make sure he is not running beyond his allotted time. Look down upon almost any member and you find that he is gabbling animatedly with the member sitting at his side.

Nevertheless, the subdued tumult of private gabbling is probably as important as any prepared speech which the lone member is reading for his constituency and if the gabblers miss anything they can read it next day in the Record. The conversation out in the cloakrooms is even more important, from the standpoint of the nation's future, and the secret conversations between leaders, far removed from the floor, are most important of all.

To obtain a really fair estimate of the House perhas the best method is to add all the Democratic members say about the Republican members to what the Republicans say about the Democrats, then discount about 50 per cent of the total and take the rest for granted.

Also, some of the more independent members already in this section have spoken of the House as a whole and it may not be amiss to quote them:

Sweeney, Ohio Democrat: "The women of this body behave like proper gentlemen, while some of the men behave like a lot of old women."

My friend from Ohio (Congressman Cooper) is honest. There are few of that type left."

LaGuardia, New York Republican: "Let us stop all these political speeches and get down to work."

Surely we ought to cut out politics now, get down to business and do something for the millions of unemployed people. . . . You can not ignore the problem by talking politics. You cannot belittle the issue by nagging the president."

Huddleston, Alabama Democrat: "Most of us are dubs. . . . Everybody knows how irresponsible I am. And that because I have no responsibility and speak for nobody, and lead nobody, that I can afford to speak the truth."

After which one suggests that the best way to learn the lowdown on the House will be to keep on nagging the members themselves.

PRAYER IS GRANTED
Lafayette, Ind.—(P)—Mr. and Mrs. Herman H. Schmitz prayed they might die together. Yesterday Schmitz fell down his basement stairs and was killed. Four hours later his wife died of diabetes, with out knowing of her husband's accident. He was 79. She was 75.

RUSS "FIRST LADY"
MANAGER OF LARGE
STATE GRAIN FARM

Adheres to Code of Communists Which Frowns Upon Unproductiveness

BY STANLEY P. RICHARDSON

(Copyright, 1932, Associated Press)

Moscow—(P)—Russia's "first lady," the wife of Michael Kalinin, president of the Soviets, plays her part in building Socialism in Russia not as the country's official hostess, but as the active manager of a big state grain farm in Siberia.

She is not known as Madame President, or even as Madame Kalinin, but simply as Comrade Kalina, or by her maiden name, Katerina Ivanovna. She has done what many others of her sisters in high places in the Soviet state have done and entered the ranks of the workers in the peasants' republic. Madame Stalin, for example, wife of Josef Stalin, secretary of the communist party and sometimes called Russia's "dictator," is completing a course in advanced chemistry to take an executive place in the textile trust.

As a party member, Madame Kalinin adheres rigidly to the Communist code, which does not countenance unproductiveness. She is 43 years old and the mother of four children, but she seems even the plain comforts afforded by her small apartment in the Kremlin for the hardships and igois of a great communal agricultural enterprise in Siberia, the region of perhaps the most severe extremes of climate in the world.

All Are Workers

Few of her countrymen know of her work. Those who do refuse to talk about it, considering it nothing unusual. To them she is just one of millions of women in the Soviet state who are contributing their share to the building of a new society, as Madame Stalin is doing. The wife of another commissar is working in a large Moscow factory. Comrade Kalina left Moscow two weeks ago to take up her post at a small village not far from Novosibirsk. It is her second position of this kind in as many years. She first managed a state farm near Alma-Ata, where Leon Trotsky was exiled before his final banishment. It also is a section noted as a place of exile for offenders against the Communist regime.

As director of a farm comprising several thousand acres and employing nearly 1,000 workers, she is responsible for the entire enterprise, but she seems even the plain comforts afforded by her small apartment in the Kremlin for the hardships and igois of a great communal agricultural enterprise in Siberia, the region of perhaps the most severe extremes of climate in the world.

Prince Nicholas and Bride See Paris

Hollywood Celebrated 24th Anniversary On Thursday

BY JESSIE HENDERSON

Hollywood—(CPA)—Thursday, the cinema capital had its twenty-fourth birthday but nobody here paid much attention to this anniversary. Hollywood is too busy making pictures to stop and celebrate the local birth of the motion picture industry.

Just the same, Hollywood was born in Los Angeles on Feb. 4, 1908. As the Los Angeles child began to grow she became too large for her little 100-foot playground at Seventh and Olive so they took her out to the rural district of Hollywood where she would have more room to rush around on her roller skates. At this time the precocious infant had long golden curls and a habit of getting her hands down her blouse by Keystone cops who seldom caught up with her. Soon she had a number of vast Hollywood playgrounds to her credit, many of them on credit also, as well as most of the real estate options in Los Angeles.

Hollywood itself rubbed its eyes and grew in a vain attempt to keep pace with the adventures of its adopted daughter. Even yet the town has considerable trouble keeping her in sight and occasionally even greater trouble trying to keep her under cover.

The members of the optical company present were R. H. Uhlemann, president, Al Morgan, Chicago, service manager, and Robert A. Harper, resident manager.

Past Matrons were entertained at a tea at the home of Mrs. H. S. Harwood, W. Lawrence-st, Thursday afternoon. The members went to the home of Mrs. A. E. Rector, 105 S. Mead-st, where a short business session took place and cards were played. Sixteen members attended.

CABMEN HOLD ANNUAL DANCE THIS EVENING

Tonight people can stand shivering on corners, sit patiently in frozen cars, or wait in hotel lobbies, but nary a cab will they see nosing its way up or down the streets of Appleton. For tonight is the annual dance for cabmen, and the snow can blow and the winds can howl without touching a responsible cab in the hearts of any cabman. A few pinch-hitters will take care of the most energetic calls for transportation, while the regulars frolic at Rainbow Gardens.

The next meeting will be the first Thursday in March.

Cards were played at 15 tables at the guest day party of Lady Elks Thursday afternoon at Elk hall. Prizes at auction bridge were won by Mrs. Bert Cowan, Mrs. G. Courtney, and Mrs. E. J. Femal, and at contract by Mrs. George Ewen, Mrs. Theodore Belling, Mrs. J. Bell of Little Chute, and Mrs. J. L. Wolf.

Group No. 4 of St. Therese church will sponsor an open card party at 8 o'clock Tuesday night at the parish hall. Mrs. George Grelsch is captain and Mrs. Anton Fredericks assistant. Schafkopf, bridge, plumpsack, and dice will be played and a chicken lunch will be served.

Mrs. J. C. Franzen, 1228 W. Spencer-st, entertained two tables of bridge Thursday afternoon at her home. Prizes were won by Mrs. Richard McComb, Oshkosh; Mrs. Oscar Nelson, and Mrs. Harrison Coon. Out of town guests were Mrs. McComb, Mrs. Louis Blaha, and Mrs. Harvey Fahlow, all of Oshkosh.

Mrs. Arthur Weiss and Miss Gertrude Kolberg entertained Tuesday night at the home of the former, E. Nawadsk, in honor of Mrs. Henry Schultz. Prizes at bridge were won by Mrs. Raymond Belling and Mrs. Norbert Stammer, and at dice by Miss Jewell Quell and Miss Gertrude Drexler.

Miss Laura Ellok, 900 N. State-st, entertained the Elks club at a hard time party at her home Thursday evening. Cards were played and prizes went to the Misses Ruth Timmers and Agnes Theisen. The club will meet in two weeks at the home of Miss Martha Boehler, 1000 N. State-st.

Plans are being made by women employees at the courthouse for a valentine party next Monday evening at the Candle Glow tea room. Following a dinner bridge and hearts will be played. Mrs. Grace Wettengel and Miss Agnes Glasnap are making arrangements.

Christian Mothers' society of St. Therese church will sponsor the fifth of a series of card parties at 8:30 Sunday afternoon at the parish hall. Mrs. Frank Schneider and Mrs. Joseph Alfieri will be in charge. Bridge, schafkopf and dice will be played.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Furstenberg, 109 E. Roosevelt-st, entertained Thursday night at their home in honor of the former's birthday anniversary. Bridge was played at two tables, prizes going to Mr. and Mrs. Harold Hamilton, and Dr. and Mrs. O. R. Busch.

Miss Margaret Mauthe, 1501 S. Madison-st, entertained the Happy Eight club Thursday night at her home. Prizes were won by Mrs. Joseph Steeger and Mrs. Carl Mauthe. The club will meet in two weeks with Mrs. Wenzel Sommers, Jr., S. Madison-st.

Our Gang club met Wednesday evening at the home of Mrs. Dorothy Plette, 829 W. Fifth-st. Prizes at dice were awarded to Miss Mabel Klinko and Mrs. Lillian Hoh. The next meeting will be Feb. 16 at the home of Miss Klinko, W. Commercial-st.

Appleton Maennercher will hold a card party at 2:30 Sunday afternoon in the basement of Appleton State Bank. Prizes will be awarded. The public is invited.

Teach Child Fallacy Of Popularity

BY ANGELO PATRI

When children arrive at high school age they are touched by the popularity notion. "If I can't be popular I want to pass out," said one intense young miss whose teacher had cautioned her about her grades and her behavior.

"Isn't your class standing against 'this to you'?" Would you pay for this passing favor of the boys and girls in your group with a failure? Your people are going to feel very badly about it if you do."

"O, I know. You and mother are just alike. You preach at me all the time. If I look crooked you think I'm on the downward path. Goodness, a girl must have a little life, mustn't she? You don't expect me to be an old woman before my time."

So skillfully does the young lady put her mother and teacher on the defensive, confuse the issue, and go her own popular way. She thinks her world is at her feet, if the boys carry her books home, ask for dates, and the rest of the trimmings that go along with popularity.

She doesn't seem to know, or see, that this popularity is as fleeting as it is flimsy. Let another girl, a bit more dashing, a shade more daring, come along and she is dropped like a cold potato. The popularity game always ends in disappointment. Real popularity comes late. Even then it is dangerous.

I had a wise old teacher who used to say, "Watch out. When everybody raises you it usually means you have not been doing your duty. When you attend to your job you are certain to tread on somebody's toes and he is in a mood to kick you. If nobody has found fault with you this day go home and examine yourself to discover wherein your weakness lies."

I am not saying that it is not possible for boys and girls to be honestly and thoroughly liked by their classmates but I am trying to warn those who seek popularity by the cheap and easy route of compliance, carelessness, idleness and surface vanity. That sort of thing is very EXPENSIVE IN TIME AND VITALITY. It takes the power that ought to be going into growth and fritters it away on useless trifles that bring no return save some careless remark like, "Some baby, that girl." "He's certainly the Cat's."

It is the fashion for the popular boys and girls to scoff at the more earnest group who take lessons seriously, who attend to their business with sure purpose, "Perfection Pete," "Sweet Sister," "Mother's Darling," "Teacher's Pet," are some of the names that hurt these worthwhile young people. But not for long. The day comes when knowledge and understanding and discipline prevail and the serious pupil wins the day.

It is possible to have good fun and still attend to business. The usual healthy high school student gets a lot of pleasure out of his work. The popularity hound gets nothing from any place. He finds the world a cold place for one who has nothing but his winning ways to offer.

Real popularity comes uninvited. It is the homestead paid to well deserved success. It is the only kind worth having. The cheaper sort becomes a heavy handicap.

Mr. Patri will give personal attention to inquiries from parents and school teachers on the care and development of children. Write him in care of this paper, inclosing stamped, addressed envelope for reply.

WOMEN TO SEE PLAY BASED ON LINCOLN'S LIFE

The dramatic program for the February meeting of the Appleton Woman's club next Thursday afternoon will center around the life of Abraham Lincoln with the presentation of the one act play, "Solemn Pride," by George Ross Leighton.

Mrs. John Engel, Jr., chairman of the dramatic department, is directing the play which is the 1919 prize play of the New York state federation of women's clubs.

The cast includes the following: Mrs. Bert Dutcher, Mrs. Maude Harwood, Mrs. Earl Baker, Mrs. W. S. Mason, Mrs. H. E. Griffin Mrs. G. L. Clapp and Miss Josephine Buchanan. The theme of the play revolves around the incident of the letter Lincoln sent to Mrs. Bixby, the role taken by Mrs. Clapp, when her fifth son was killed in the Civil war. The author sketches a dramatic picture of Mrs. Bixby and some of the women as they worked at home while their men folks fought in the south.

Special permission to present the play has been obtained from the author. The program will follow the 1 o'clock luncheon and business meeting at the clubhouse.

CONSIDER FULL TIME WORKER TO DIRECT SCOUTS

Discussions on the employment of a full time Girl Scout worker, the health project for the year, and various reports took place at the February board of directors' meeting of the Appleton Woman's club Thursday morning at the clubhouse. The director of the Appleton Girl Scouts is employed by the Woman's club, which sponsors the movement with the Girl Scout Community committee in the city. Decisions on the health program to be sponsored by the club will be made at the next board meeting. Reports were presented on the tap dancing, swimming and horseback riding classes now under the supervision of the club.

60 Reserve Seats For Bridge Tea

OVER 60 reservations have already been received for the Federation Foundation Fund bridge tea which will be given Saturday afternoon at Conway hotel under the auspices of Appleton Woman's club. Play will begin promptly at 2 o'clock.

Hostesses for the event are Mrs. Stephen Rosebush, Mrs. John Conway, Mrs. S. C. Shannon, and Mrs. Louis Marshall. Those who will pour are Mrs. Harry Ingold, the Misses Marie Ziegenhagen and Helen Schmidt, Mrs. George Wettengel, Mrs. J. V. Wedgwood, and Mrs. A. H. Wickesberg. Mrs. L. C. Sleeper will be in charge of ticket sales, Mrs. J. R. Whitman will direct auction bridge, and Mrs. J. I. Monaghan is chairman of contract. Publicity for the party is being handled by Mr. D. E. Steinberg, and Mrs. Bert Dutcher and Mrs. Arthur Zuehlke will be in charge of prizes.

The proceeds of the party will go to help make up Wisconsin's quota of $40,000 toward the national fund which maintains the general headquarters of the Federation at Washington, D. C.

Mrs. Elta Thome, Sparta, state vice president of Rebekahs, spoke on lodge matters at the meeting of Deborah Rebekah lodge Wednesday night at Odd Fellow hall. Mrs. John McCarter reported on the district meeting which she attended at Manitowoc recently. Mrs. R. Blakeslee sang several numbers, and refreshments were served under the direction of Mrs. Ada Blake. Sixty members were present.

Mrs. Peter Bootz entertained the B to Z club Wednesday night at her home, 613 W. College-ave. Bridge was played and prizes were won by Mrs. Joseph Ditter and Mrs. August Wachholz. The next meeting will be in four weeks with Mrs. W. Brenzel, Kaukauna.

Miss Emaline Bauman, Fair-st, entertained the T. N. T. bridge club Thursday night at her home. Prizes were won by Miss Dorothea Leisnering and Miss Evelyn Huss. The club will meet next Thursday with Miss Lucille Lillge, E. Pacific-st.

3,247 SCORE IS BOWLED BY ARTCO INKS

Record Total Gives Team Three-game Win and League Championship

Menasha—Piling up a 3,247 pin team total, the highest ever scored on Hendy alleys, the Artco Inks Thursday evening snared the championship of the first round in Hendy Recreation city league bowling. For the first time in the league's history, the season's play is divided into two rounds, with prizes offered on both occasions.

By virtue of their sensational hitting the Artco squad defeated the Blue Bills in three straight games. While the Gilbert Paper company aggregation, league leaders since the beginning of the season, dropped two out of three tilts to the Marathon Mills and lost the championship.

The Artco Inks chalked up their record score with only four men in action and using a 179 pin average. For the missing kegler, G. W. Pierce, Michael Malout, league star, led the hitting orgy with 700 pins in three games and single game scores of 213, 237, and 255. C. Pierce rolled single games of 193, 235, and 256 for a series total of 684. Wallace Pierce chalked up single games of 224, 234, and 210 for a 668 total, and Jimmy Kryslak, with single games of 225, 230, and 217 for a total of 672. In singles, was fourth high on the team.

One Game Ahead

At the close of Thursday's competition the Artco Inks were in first place with 30 wins and 18 losses, the Gilbert Paper company in second with 23 wins and 25 losses, the Rip-Rip Grocers third with 36 wins and 12 losses, the Hendy Recreation team fourth with 35 wins and 22 losses, Menasha Products Pankratz Fuchs and Meyer Service Station tied for fourth with 34 wins and 23 losses, the Marathon Papers took eighth with 33 wins and 24 losses. The Gear Dairy and Menasha cleaners were tied for ninth place with 32 wins and 25 losses. The Blue Bills, Kewitth, Central Papers, thirteenth; Fahrach Agency, Menasha Wholesale store, Acker Nite Hawks and Frank Anderson Cafe teams were tied for fourteenth; the Twin City Laundry took eighteenth place and the Huelbeck Five earned the cellar position with five wins and 53 losses.

In Thursday's play four teams scored three game victories. The Artco Inks took three from the Blue Bills, the Pankratz Fuchs won three from the Frank Anderson Cafe, the Hendy Recreation team took three games from the Acker Nite Hawks, and the Menasha Wholesale Store dropped three contests to the Meyer Service Station.

The Gilbert Papers dropped the two three game games to the Marathon Mills bowlers, the Menasha Products won two out of three tilts from the Menasha Cleaners; the Rip-Rip Grocers two out of three tilts from the Fahrach Agency, Huelbeck's Five dropped two out of three contests to the Central Papers; the Twin City Laundry won two out of three games from the Engravers; and the John Scheffler Five won two out of three tilts from the Gear Dairy.

Elk series of 711 pins in three games, chalked up a few weeks ago by August Lipske, was not surpassed, and Viler Dennis' high single game of 288 pins, scored earlier in the season, was not challenged.

NEW CONSTITUTION ADOPTED BY LEGION

Menasha Post Discusses Further Participation in Politics

Menasha—A new constitution and by-laws for the local organization was adopted by Henry J. Lenz post of American Legion at a meeting in Elk's club rooms Thursday evening. Dr. G. N. Pratt, post commander, presided.

In addition to action on the new constitution, the desirability of further participation in local politics was discussed, and a committee appointed to direct the political activities of the post.

Members of the Winneconne Legion post were guests and brought provisions for a fish fry which followed the business session. About $9 pounds of fish were prepared by James Maclean and consumed by the Legionnaires.

INJURIES REMOVE HOHEISAL FROM TEAM

Menasha—The crack Hoheisal, guard on Menasha's Jack Johnson's basketball squad, will be out of the lineup because of injuries for the remainder of the season, according to team authorities.

Hoheisal injured his left arm when he ran against the wall of St. Mary's gymnasium during a game with the Oshkosh team last Tuesday evening. His injuries at first were not considered serious. X-ray examinations later revealed a fractured bone.

The Menasha Knights of Columbus squad is tied with Fond du Lac for first place in league standings. With Hoheisal out of the lineup, Anderson and Meyer are expected to work in the guard positions.

Sonnenberg Drugs PLAY THIS EVENING

Menasha—The Sonnenberg Drugs Menasha amateur case squad, will meet the Appleton Bears in a postponed Badger State league contest at S. A. Cook armory Friday evening. The game was originally scheduled for Wednesday evening.

Envoy to China

Nelson T. Johnson, above, United States minister to China, is one of the principal figures in the delicate situation arising out of Japan's decision to invade Shanghai, where many Americans reside. Nelson is a veteran of 25 years in the diplomatic service. He has served in Manchuria as well as in China proper. He can converse with Chinese in their own language and is an authority on Chinese history.

ALDERMEN TO ACT ON CITY SALARIES

Opening of "Teacherette" Bids Also Planned for Adjourned Meeting

Menasha—Action on the city salary ordinance, delayed at the meeting of the common council Tuesday evening, will be taken at an adjourned session in the council chambers Friday evening. A motion for passage of the proposed 1932 ordinance, embodying few important changes from last year's scale, was ruled lost at Tuesday's meeting when three out of eight aldermen present cast negative votes.

In addition to action on the salaries, bids on the purchase of the "Teacherette", a city owned structure at Milwaukee and Broadway will be opened. Similar bids were received several weeks ago but were rejected. An offer of $3,800 from George Pierce, Menasha, was received two weeks ago but without legal procedure the council was unable to close the sale contract.

Appointment of action board members also will be announced at Friday's session, according to Mayor N. G. Kimmel. The matter was deferred from Tuesday to allow aldermen to make final suggestions for changes in board personnel.

MENASHA SOCIETY

Menasha—Young Peoples society of St. Thomas Episcopal church will entertain at a pre-lenten dance party in the parish house Friday evening. Societies from Appleton, Fond du Lac, Oshkosh, Waupaca and other nearby parishes have been invited.

Young Ladies Sodality of St. Mary parish will sponsor food sale at the Bach Dry Goods store on Main-st Saturday afternoon. Bargaining will begin at 1:30.

Island Masonic chapter has been invited to attend a meeting in celebration of the seventy-fifth anniversary of the Tyrin chapter at Oshkosh in the Oshkosh Masonic temple Saturday afternoon and evening. An elaborate program has been arranged.

Menasha-Polish Falcon athletic association will sponsor one of a series of dancing parties in Falcon hall Sunday evening.

Women's auxiliary to Henry J. Lenz post of American Legion will meet in S. A. Cook armory Friday evening.

Women's Relief corps entertained at a guest card party in S. A. Cook armory Thursday afternoon. Mrs. Mary Thornton was in charge of arrangements.

Germania Benevolent society entertained at one of a series of dancing parties in Menasha auditorium Thursday evening.

Wimodaus club met at the Masonic lodge rooms Thursday afternoon.

The Variety Eight club was entertained at the home of Mrs. Albrecht Thursday evening. Honors at cards went to Mrs. F. Handler and Mrs. Paula Buntrock.

Catholic Daughters of America entertained at a card party in Knights of Columbus lodge rooms Thursday afternoon. Mrs. F. M. Conroy was in charge of arrangements and 22 tables were in play. Honors at bridge went to Mrs. Percy Lawson, Mrs. Frank Pankratz, Mrs. Carl L. Stipp, Mrs. C. Barshaw and Miss Angeline Dorn, and in schafkopf to Mrs. Carl Beck.

BANQUET FOR SCOUTS
Menasha—Boy Scouts of Troop 15, St. Patrick's parish, were entertained at a banquet given by the St. Patrick's school hall Wednesday evening. Following the dinner a talk was given by M. G. Clark, valley council scout executive and awards were made to troop members by L. T. Jourdain, committee chairman.

INSTALL NEW ALARM SYSTEM AT FIRE HOUSE

Equipment Will Enable Fire- men to Get Away Sooner from Station

Menasha—A new alarm system which will save from 30 seconds to two minutes in starting for fires is under construction at the Menasha fire station. It will be ready for use early next week.

With each of the five city wards divided into four sections, a system of signal lights will be installed at the Menasha police station. When an alarm is received, firemen will switch on the light designating their approximate destination, and leave immediately for the fire while police officers call the John Strange paper mill with instructions for blowing the general alarm whistle, and also notify all members of the firemen on duty at the station when the alarm is received.

Heretofore, when alarms have been received at the fire station, members of the department were unable to leave until they had called the paper mill with instructions for blowing the whistle to indicate to which ward the trucks were going. The whistle could indicate only the ward in which the fire was located, making it difficult for off duty fire fighters to locate the scene of action.

Another advantage of the new system, according to Fire Chief Paul Theimer, will be the elimination of a traffic hazard. Under the old system, the driver of the hook and ladder truck, whose duty it was to call the paper mill with instructions, was unable to drive his truck from the station at the same time that the pumper started for the fire. With an interval of one or two blocks between the trucks, traffic often closed in behind the first machine, it was pointed out.

With the cooperation of the Menasha police department, the new apparatus is expected to further increase the efficiency of Menasha fire department. Installation of the equipment will be made at little cost, Chief Theimer stated.

HIGHS READY FOR TWO RIVERS GAME

Calder's Squad to Attempt Come-back in Fifth Conference Contest

Menasha—Concluding a week of intensive preparation with a light workout Thursday afternoon, the Menasha high school cage squad is ready for a Northeastern Wisconsin league battle with the Two Rivers quint at Butte des Morts gymnasium Friday evening. The Menasha "B" squad will meet the Two Rivers second team in a preliminary action.

Friday's contest will be the fifth conference game for the Caldermen, now credited with one win and three losses, including a crushing defeat by the Neenah Rockets here last week. Drills in offensive plays, with several combinations at work, have featured rehearsals directed by Coach Nathan Calder here this week.

Joseph Liehl, a veteran of last year's squad who became eligible for varsity competition at the close of the first semester, is expected to share the center job with Sindahl and Leopold in Friday's encounter. Novakowski and Remmel probably will start in the forward positions with Massey and Captain Asmus at guards.

FOWKES TO CONTINUE SERIES OF SERMONS

Menasha—The third of a series of four sermons under the general heading, "Challenges of Our Faith," will be given by the Rev. A. Gordon Fowkes at the 11 o'clock service in St. Thomas Episcopal church Sunday morning. Fowkes' sermon is titled "The Challenge of Remembrance."

At the conclusion of the series of sermons, the Rev. Fowkes will leave Menasha to take up new duties as rector of St. Luke church in Kalama, Mich. The Rev. E. J. H. Nutter, dean of Nashotah House, will conduct services at St. Thomas church Feb. 21 and for several Sundays following.

SCOUTS MAKE PLANS FOR PARENTS' NIGHT

Menasha—Further plans for a "Parents' night" program late this month were outlined by boy scouts of Troop 14 at a meeting in the Congregational church parlors Thursday evening. Preparations for the annual valley council camp-out at Clintonville early in June were started under the direction of Robert Schwartz, scout master.

NEGATIVE TEAM IN DEBATE AT DE PERE

Menasha—The Menasha high school negative debate team, composed of Milton Walter, Donald Brown, and June Humphrey, was to meet the West De Pere high school affirmative team in a conference debate on unemployment insurance at West De Pere Friday afternoon. The Menasha affirmative team defeated a Marion negative squad in a league contest here Wednesday evening.

HENDY FIVE BEATS APPLETON EAGLE TEAM

Menasha—Piling up a 97 pin lead in the first game, the Hendy Recreation No. 2 bowling squad nosed out the Appleton Eagles' team, 2,789 to 2,774 in a match contest on Hendy Alleys Wednesday evening. After their one sided defeat in the first game, 960 to 883, the Appleton keggers rallied to win the second tilt 983 to 918, and the third 928 to 911. Tor now of Appleton was higher scorer with 626 pins.

ST. MARY CAGERS TO PLAY OAKFIELD FIVE

Parochial School Squad Completes Preparations for Non-league Tilt

Menasha—The strong Oakfield high school basketball team, defeated only once this season, will meet the St. Mary high school cagers in a non-conference battle at St. Mary gymnasium Friday evening. A preliminary contest will be played by string teams from the two schools.

The Oakfield squad scored a decisive victory over St. Mary's in a pre-season battle at Oakfield early in December, but a more closely contested score is expected in Friday's encounter. The St. Mary cagers upset the St. Peter team of Oshkosh, league leaders in the Fox River Valley Catholic high school circuit, here last week.

St. Mary will appear in his regular position at center for St. Mary's with Mackin and Captain Resch at Guards. Coachman is Coach Clifford Ditts' likely choice for left forward with either Stip or Oberweiser as his running mate. Voss and Finch also are expected to see action.

KLEENEX TEAM HOLDS BOWLING LEAGUE LEAD

Neenah—H. Pierce and his Kleenex team Thursday evening in the Kimberly-Clark bowling league won a pair of games from the Auditors to increase its lead one full game. Total scores 682 on games of 209, 247 and 210. F. Chalmers rolled his individual game of 257 and a 648 total, while Koske scored 616, giving the Kleenex a 3,049 total on 1,038, 1,032 and 979. H. Peck for the Auditors showed 640 on games of 193, 268 and 241. W. Kuehl rolled 624; Krull, 619; Greenz, 634; Palmer, 628; Koski, 618; Dupont, 607.

Specialties move into a tie for second place by taking two games from the Services, Engineers won two from Supers, Salmons took a pair from Auditors and Kimflex won the odd game from Superintendents.

Scores: Superintendents, 857, 900, 878; Kimflex, 883, 950, 834; Kleenex, 1,038, 1,032, 979; Auditors, 884, 1,061, 1,013; Services, 836, 825, 869; Specialties, 877, 907, 935; Supers, 874, 951, 839; Engineers, 888, 896, 920; Salmons, 915, 961, 972; Auditing, 960, 915, 931.

RECORD BROADCASTING HITS SNAG IN GERMANY

Berlin—(AP)—German radio fans are being treated to a fight between the government broadcasting chain and manufacturers of phonograph records.

According to the record makers, they have been studying the effect on sales made by playing records over radio and found the effect disadvantageous to them.

Consequently notice was served on the radio group to cease broadcasting the records. The manufacturers contend that broadcasting harms sales.

PACKERS WHIP NEENAH QUINT BY 22-16 COUNT

Twin City Specials Rally in Third Period, But Fall Short of Win

Neenah—Green Bay Packers basketball team defeated the Twin City Specials, 22 and 16, Thursday evening at S. A. Cook armory. The Green Bay boys, who are all well known football men played a fast game and kept just far enough ahead of the locals to make the game interesting. Veterans of Foreign Wars sponsored the game.

Remmel started the scoring soon after the game started with a field goal. "Bank" Bruder fouled and Pierce missed the free throw. Bruder fouled again and Neubauer missed the free toss, and when Jorgensen fouled Engleman missed. However, Engleman scored a field goal short time later. Pierce committed a personal foul and Engleman made one of two free throws. Remmel fouled but Engleman missed the free toss. Bruder fouled, Pierce missed the gift toss. Pierce scored a field goal as the first quarter ended 5 and 4 in Green Bay's favor.

Gaertner went in for Biggers at the beginning of the second quarter, when Jorgensen fouled, Mihalaski missed a free toss, Herber returned the first two points in this quarter. Biggers returned to the game, relieving Neubauer. Remmel fouled but Zedmueller missed, and when Remmel fouled again Engleman scored a free toss. The half closed 8 and 4, the locals falling to score in this quarter.

In the third quarter Pierce fouled giving Bruder one point out of two tries. Jorgensen fouled and Zedmueller scored a point. Jorgensen then scored a field goal, as did Biggers.

Neenah Craps Up
Engleman followed Biggers with a similar shot after the tipoff, and Gaertner scored a field goal. After time out Engleman found the hoop for two more points, followed by one by Biggers. The quarter ended 14 and 12, still in the Packers' favor.

In the last quarter Bruder scoring a field goal, Jorgensen made a sensational shot midcourt and Bruder fouled, but Jorgensen missed the free toss. Bruder then dropped in two successive field goals. Biggers then located the hoop, but when Jorgensen fouled Engleman scored both free throws. Jorgensen dropped in the last basket as the game ended.

The preliminary game between Larson's Restaurants and Methodist Epworth Leaguers was equally interesting. The Larson five, after the first quarter, which ended in a 2 and 2 tie, walked off to a lead which it kept to the finish.

The score at the half was 9 and 4, at the third quarter 13 and 10, and at the finish, 24 and 16. The Larson team, with the exception of one player, Arndt, are high school players. The Methodists have won all but two games this season.

TWIN CITY DEATHS

WARREN MORAN
Menasha—Warren Thomas Moran, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Webster Moran, 321 Broad-st., died of pneumonia at Theda Clark hospital shortly after 4 o'clock Thursday afternoon. The child had been ill since Sunday and was taken to the hospital Tuesday.

He was born in Menasha Aug. 17, 1931. He is survived by his parents; three sisters, June, Bernita, and Marjorie Moran; and grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Warren Moran of Menasha and Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Jacobson, Coteau, N. D.

The body was to be removed from the Laemmrich funeral home to the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Moran, 321 Broad-st., Friday afternoon, where funeral services will be held at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon, the Rev. John Best officiating. Interment will be in Rest Haven cemetery.

CARLTON WICKHAM
Neenah—Carlton Wickham, 18, son of Harry and Mrs. Wickham, 18, Thursday at Appleton. The Wickham family were former Neenah residents. The father is the only survivor.

CALL CAGE MEETING
Menasha—A meeting of the Badger State amateur basketball league officials and teams will be held at Hotel Raif at Oshkosh Sunday afternoon, according to local authorities. A business meeting and general discussion of league activities is planned.

"Perfect Model"

Gurla Andre, above, a charming blond and the most photographed and highest-priced artist's model in America, has accepted a lower salary in Hollywood, Calif., on the hope that she will develop into a film star. She has been called the "perfect model."

NEENAH SOCIETY

Neenah—The diamond jubilee of Tyrian chapter No. 15, Royal Arch Masons, will be celebrated Saturday afternoon at the Oshkosh Masonic temple with a program which will continue through the evening. A group of local Arch Masons is planning to attend. In the afternoon the Royal Arch degree will be conferred at three different times. At 12:30 present officers of the chapter will confer the degree, at 2 o'clock ritualistic work will be performed by past high priests, and at 3:30 the regular officers again will take the floor.

A banquet will be held at 6:30, when a reunion will be held for the various classes initiated since its organization in 1857. Frank H. Jones will be toastmaster and Prof. W. C. Hewitt of Oshkosh Teachers' college will be the speaker. Many Grand officers will be present. Dancing will conclude the program.

Neenah Amusement association will conduct the third of its series of dancing parties Saturday evening at Eagle hall. The affair will be a masquerade.

British Tariff Act May End Most-Favored-Nation Clause

London—(AP)—One possible effect of enacting protective tariffs in Great Britain as the government proposes to do may be the scrapping of the most-favored-nation clause in commercial treaties such as exist between the United States and this country, observers believe.

Whether treaty alterations will be necessary will depend largely on the methods England takes to achieve one of the most important objectives of the new tariff program—that of lowering foreign tariff barriers by offering to reduce British tariffs.

Under the new program about three-fourths of America's total trade with Great Britain is affected by tariffs. In 1930 Anglo-American trade totalled approximately $775,000,000. About one-fourth of that total was represented by meat, wheat and cotton which are on the tariff free list.

While the new program definitely makes Great Britain a general tariff country, in recent years it has been "free trade" in name only as far as many imports were concerned.

One-fourth of the imports from the United States were dutiable on a high scale even before the government's tariff program was announced. These levies were under the McKenna duties which have been in effect for a decade and which average about 33 1-3 per cent on such imports as automobiles and accessories, clocks and musical instruments.

Also there are the abnormal imports duties of 50 per cent levied a few months ago. All these existing duties are not affected by the new 10 per cent general tariff.

The highest existing tariff which affects the United States is on spirits which, levied on such articles as perfumes, amounts in some cases to $20 a gallon. There also are heavy duties on gasoline, tobacco, silk and motion picture films.

"WORLD WAR CHILD" ON WAY TO U. S. LIVE WITH PARENTS

Paris—After having been separated by official barriers from her parents for 10 years, Jacqueline Holgate, child of a war romance, is at last on her way to join her French mother and American father in Long Beach, Calif. She departed with the blessings of the American Legion Auxiliary of Paris Post and the local department of the International Red Cross Societies.

Jacqueline is the daughter of Clifford W. Holgate, disabled veteran who served in France with the 26th Division, and married a French girl before the war. She was born in France. After the war he left for his home in California with his wife, but they were unable to take Jacqueline because she could not obtain a passport, although she was four years old. Her grandmother, Mme. Dupont, had great affection for the child and in her struggle to keep her, claimed Jacqueline was French. The old lady is now resigned, however, to her loss.

Holgate was sick and had to get home in 1921, which prevented him at the time from untangling the official red-tape which held his daughter. This has at last been cut through the efforts of the auxiliary and the American consulate.

Happy at Reunion
Jacqueline, who is sailing direct by the way of the Panama Canal, is happier than she has been for years over the prospects of seeing her parents, whom she scarcely remembers, and also her younger brother, who was born in the United States.

The little girl, who is attractive and vivacious, is not as French in her ways as she might have been without the kindly interest of the auxiliary. For the past four years she has been attending the American School of Champaign and is now able to speak English well, and her closest friends have been American girls.

CALL MEETING OF KAUKAUNA GUN CLUB

Annual Gathering Scheduled for 10 O'clock Sunday Morning

Kaukauna—Kaukauna Gun club will hold its annual meeting at 10 o'clock next Sunday morning in the municipal building, according to Joseph Jansen, president. A program of shoots for the coming season will be mapped out and other annual business will be transacted. Officers will be elected.

The club has completed a successful season, holding several major shoots, and also playing matches with teams from the Green Bay-Delaware club. It is a member of the Northeastern Wisconsin Trapshooters league, and held several of the league shoots here. Local marksmen did well in these shoots. A large number of marksmen have been attending the matches staged by the club, indicating increased interest in the sport.

SOCIAL ITEMS

Kaukauna—Lady Knights of Columbus met in the clubrooms on Wisconsin-ave Thursday afternoon. Mrs. M. Nagan was chairman of the hostess committee. Following the business meeting cards were played, and prizes were awarded to Mrs. J. Haen and Mrs. E. Driessen in bridge; Mrs. J. Kiefer and Mrs. P. Hartzheim in five hundred; and Mrs. F. Bisek and Mrs. N. Heindel in schafkopf.

The Rah Rah club of the high school met in the history room following classes Thursday evening. The club party was postponed to Saturday evening Feb. 20. Miss Vida Shepard is adviser of the organization.

The next business meeting of Trinty Dramatic club will be held Tuesday evening, March 1, according to Martin Hoffman, business manager. The club also will meet Feb. 15 at 8 p.m. Feb. 16 a sleigh ride will be held, and Feb. 17 a business meeting. The chairman of the executive planning arrangements is Martin Hoffman.

THREE-ACT FARCE OFFERED AT SCHOOL

"Bashful Mr. Bobbs" Presented by Young Ladies Sodality

Kaukauna—Approximately 300 persons attended the presentation of "Bashful Mr. Bobbs," a three-act farce given under auspices of the Young Ladies Sodality of Holy Cross church in the high school auditorium Thursday evening. The afternoon matinee also was well attended.

The play was centered about the escapades of Marston Bobbs, played by Joseph Bayoregon, and his cousin in Robert Marston was continually in trouble, and always called upon his cousin to help him out of his predicaments. Action was developed with Marston becoming engaged to two girls, sending each a letter intended for the other.

Miss Margaret Fargo portrayed the part of Jean, one of Marston's victims, while Loyola Egan played the part of Celeste, a movie star, who was successful in capturing the elusive Marston. Lloyd Derus cast in the role of the bashful Mr. Bobbs, won the heart of Marston's first victim, to climax the play.

Special acts of entertainment were well received. The first was a group of harmonica players of Holy Cross school called "Musical 'Evens'". Harold Coleman and Lawrence Kroll appeared as the "Happiness Boys". They offered several vocal selections to accompaniment of Hawaiian guitars. Miss Margaret Ann Flanagan entertained with several harp selections.

Other members of the cast were Charles Block, Virginia Kline, Verona Weber, Fern Wiesler, Edna Esler, Eileen Milton, and Leon Van Lieshout. The Holy Cross school orchestra also offered musical selections, under direction of Sister Mary Felicia.

DRAMATIC RESERVES WHIP ALUMNI CAGERS

Kaukauna—The Trinity Dramatic reserves treated the Holy Cross alumni team to a 17 to 15 trimming in the Lutheran school auditorium Wednesday evening. The Dramatic reserves took an early lead and held it throughout the game, play being in close in the final period. Bob Burton acted as captain for the Dramatic quint and will continue to serve in that capacity throughout the season.

Oshkosh will be the next opponent for the Dramatic cagers in the Fox River Valley Lutheran league, the game being played at Oshkosh next Saturday evening. Harold Hildebrandt will act as captain. Players will meet at the Lutheran school at 6 o'clock Saturday evening, and then proceed to Oshkosh.

ALL-AMERICAN RATING FOR SCHOOL YEARBOOK

Kaukauna—Word was received Thursday by Olin G. Dryer, principal of the high school, that the Scholastic Press association had awarded the Kaukauna high school yearbook, "The Papyrus," for 1931 an all-American rating. This is the fourth consecutive school yearbook to receive the rating. Josephine Berens was editor-in-chief, and Julius Martens, Jr. was business manager. Miss Ethlyn Handran was adviser.

Work on the 1932 Papyrus has been started under the direction of Miss Handran and pictures of the classes will be taken next week.

20 TRANSIENTS ARE LODGED BY POLICE

Kaukauna—Due to the cold weather there were 20 transients housed at the police station Thursday evening. Few of the lodgers have made application for a night's lodging at the station during the past few weeks, the number ranging from two to eight for one evening.

ADDING SUGAR KEEPS FROZEN CREAM BETTER

By adding 15 per cent of sugar to cream which is to be sold in a frozen condition for later use in the making of ice cream, W. V. Price, of the Wisconsin college of agriculture staff, has found that he could prevent certain ill effects caused by the freezing.

Ordinarily, the freezing and thawing of fresh cream causes several changes in its appearance. Frozen cream, when thawed, becomes lumpy, due to the presence of small granules of butterfat, and if the cream is allowed to reach temperatures much above 100 degrees Fahrenheit, a part of the butterfat melts and appears as oil on the surface of the cream.

Working on the belief that the leucithin, of which normal milk contains a small percentage, is partially responsible for the swell that occurs in the ice cream freezing process, and also that holding leucithin at low temperatures over a period of time impairs its ability to influence the swell of ice cream, Price reasoned that it would be possible to prevent these undesired changes taking place in frozen cream if means were provided to protect the leucithin from freezing injury.

Wisconsin ice cream manufacturers who store ice cream will likely add sugar to the cream before freezing. The sugar has to be added to the ice cream mixed eventually, and by adding it before the storage period, it is urged that they will be improving the body of the resulting cream.

Do this for Your Child in TWO WEEKS

How to rid any boy or girl of sluggishness or constipation and build a big appetite.

The trouble with children who will not eat is usually stasis. The symptoms are a tongue that's always coated, bad breath, poor color, dull eyes that are often a bilious yellow. No appetite, no ambition—even for play. Hard to get to sleep, hard to wake in the morning.

There's an absolute remedy for this condition. It gives listless youngsters the appetite and energies of a young animal! They eat! They gain! They keep well!

The California Treatment conquers Sluggishness

It's not the stomach, but the bowel condition that keeps children from eating. But the trouble is in the lower bowel—the colon. California syrup of figs is the only "medicine" that is needed to stimulate the colon muscles. The very next day, your child is eating better and feeling better. Keep on with the syrup of figs a few days and you will see amazing improvement in appetite, color, weight and spirits.

Any drug store has the real California syrup of figs, all bottled, with directions. Nature never made a nicer acting or nicer tasting laxative. (It is purely vegetable.) Remember California syrup of figs when sickness, a cold or any upset has clogged a child's bowels.

WARNING
Even when it's something to give children, some stores will try to substitute. So be sure the bottle says CALIFORNIA Syrup of Figs.

Surprises Mark First Day Of Olympic Winter Sport Program

UNITED STATES IN FIRST PLACE WITH 29 POINTS

Jack Shea Cops 500 Meter Race; Irving Jaffee 5,000 Meter Jaunt

BY EDWARD J. NEIL
Associated Press Sports Writer
LAKE PLACID, N. Y., (AP)—The 1932 winter Olympics are just one day old and yet the village of Lake Placid already is groggy from the surprises and thrills of the first of these international struggles ever staged in the United States.

In the first place not even the most enthusiastic of all the natives had any idea that the famed speedsters of Norway, Finland and Sweden, with records of conquests in past Olympics, victories over time, form, experience and the world at large, could stand so beaten as they do today.

Yet on the record of the first day of the Olympics stand the amazing conquest of Irving Jaffee, a boy from the sidewalks of New York, who learned his skating in a two-by-four rink on 52nd street while the Scandinavians were living on steel blades outdoors, and the triumph of Jack Shea, a local boy who grew up on the ice of Placid and Mirror lakes, just down the road.

Shea, a sophomore at Dartmouth, won the 500 meters final and defeated by five full yards Bert Evensen, world champion, record holder, supposedly invincible at that distance.

Jaffee, Slim Wall-st broker's clerk, was even more impressive in the 5,000 meters final, spotting all but one of the field a dozen yards in the last lap and still beating them to the finish line.

Trailing in fifth place a lap from home, Jaffee flew through a furious snowstorm, passed all but Eddie Murphy, his team mate from Chicago, and then nipped him by inches at the tape.

In that group at his heels were Ivar Ballagrud of Norway, Olympic champion at the distance in 1928, holder of the world's record Jaffee came no where near equalling. Ivar was in fifth place, badly beaten, at the finish.

Overnight the United States became an outstanding favorite to sweep the games, although the hockey situation was not brightened by Canada's 2 to 1 overtime victory over the Germans, while Germany was beating Poland by the same score.

Today the 1500 meters trials and final were scheduled with Shea, Ray Murray, Lloyd Guenther and Herbert Taylor facing the same foreign contingents with growing confidence.

Yesterday's results:
Speed Skating
500-meters—Won by Jack Shea, United States; second, Bert Evensen, defending champion, Norway, third, Alex Hurd, Canada; fourth, Frank Stack, Canada; fifth, Bill Logan, Canada; sixth, O'Neill Farrell, United States. Time 43 4-10 seconds.

5,000 meters—Won by Irving Jaffee, United States; second, Eddie Murphy, United States; third, Bill Logan, Canada; fourth, Herbert Taylor, United States; fifth, Ivar Ballagrud, defending champion, Norway; sixth, Bert Evensen, Norway; seventh, Frank Stack, Canada; eighth, Harry Smyth, Canada. ## BRUSHING UP SPORTS ... By Laufer

THEY ALL LAUGHED WHEN MAX CAREY grabbed a broom and hit a home run—and this is how it happened: The Pirates were playing a picked team at St. Marys, Ohio. Hans Wagner and Bill Hinchman were veterans then and Max Carey and "Lefty" Cooper were youngsters. It rained in the morning and at game time the field was one big puddle. Loads of sawdust were spread about home plate and the bases. A broom was provided to keep the sawdust leveled. The Pirates took a huge early lead. Then, in a late inning, Carey came to bat. After taking two swings, he dropped his bat, while the home-talent pitcher was winding up, seized the broom and swung from the hips. The ball plopped weakly toward third, and the pitcher seized it. But the cover was wet and the pitcher threw far over first base. Carey dashed for second. The first baseman heaved wildly into deep left field. Carey galloped home, and since everybody was having so much fun, they let the run count.

Wherein Coach Shields Tells Why Appleton May Lose To East Green Bay

Five Members of Team Reported Ailing; Reserves Play Prelim

BY GORDON R. MCINTYRE
HB scene is the Post-Crescent editorial office Thursday noon, the sports scribe and the various members of the editorial staff are busy very busy for it is nearing noon, the "zero hour" for stories being about an hour and a half away. Typewriters click merrily and occasionally there's the rattle of tin as the copy box is hauled down the chute.

A telephone rings and the sports editor, who in a leisure moment is writing the publicity for the legion employment drive, reaches for the receiver.

"See-a-a-a," he shouts into the transmitter half way across the desk.

RUGGIRELLO GETS CHANCE TONIGHT

Italian Heavy Meets Ernie Schaaf in Windup of Gar- den Card

New York (AP)—A cracked rib has lifted Salvatore Ruggirello, big Italian heavyweight, out of the ranks of the preliminary boys into a 15 round feature bout against Dime Schaaf of Boston in Madison Square Garden tonight.

The cracked rib was suffered by Paulino Uzcudun, veteran Spaniard and forced Paulino to withdraw from the Schaaf bout in Ruggirello's favor.

The Italian, three months ago, never would have been given consideration as a possible opponent for a heavyweight of Schaaf's capabilities. But knockout victories over Walter Cobb of Baltimore and Stanley Poedda of Jersey City in his last two starts have changed all that.

Ruggirello was on the short end of 10 to 1 betting against Cobb but he landed a right hand punch on Cobb's chin before the fight had turned as their share of the Baltimore boy went down and out.

JONES, PIAZZA GET TITLE GO MONEY SOON

Chester Judge J. O. Evidenbach yesterday signed an order vacating $6,000 garnishment brought by James Bain of Chicago against the Anders Eight club, local promoters.

FRIDAY'S GAMES
EASTERN DIVISION
Freedom at Denmark
Wrightstown at Reedsville
Hilbert at Brillion

WESTERN DIVISION
Kimberly at Hortonville
Pulaski at Bear Creek
Shiocton at Seymour

WITH half the schedule completed in both divisions of the Little Nine Conference two teams are setting the pace in the race for leadership of divisions. In the Eastern section Denmark and Reedsville are deadlocked with each team winning six engagements and losing one. In the Western section Hortonville is just one jump ahead of Kimberly with seven straight victories. Kimberly has won six tussles and dropped but one.

All eyes will be on the crucial game of Friday's schedule, with Kimberly at Hortonville. Kimberly has lost but one game this season and that to Hortonville by a 16 to 14 count at Kimberly. Coach Harper of Kimberly thinks his team now is a much improved machine. Nothing would give the Red Devils more pleasure than to win Friday and avenge the blot on their record put there by Hortonville. The Red Devils in their last engagements have been tearing away at every opponent's defense and have piled up big scores. The Kimberly offense is centered around Gossens and Hofkins forwards and Monte a lanky lad who in recent games has become plenty dangerous under the hoop. Alois Alberts, guard also as a big threat.

In the other games in the Western division Bear Creek will make desperate attempt to get out of the cellar at the expense of the Pulaski Shiocton. The Kimberly will play host to the two leaders play teams in the lower bracket, Freedom coming to Denmark and Wrightstown to Reedsville. Hilbert will journey to Brillion.

GAR WOOD CLAIMS NEW SPEED RECORD
Miami Beach, Fla. (AP)—Gar wood claimed a new world's speed boat record today with a two-way average of 111 7/12 miles an hour on the Indian Creek course here with his Miss America IX.

He was clocked at 112.44 miles an hour on a southward run over the natural mile, and 110.989 miles an hour on a northward run. The average of the two runs, as required by National Yachtman's association rules, gave him the average of 111 7/12, as compared with the old record of 110.223 held by Kaye Don of England.

PHILS WILL TRADE KLEIN --For Quarter Of A Club
BY JOHN B. FOSTER
Copyright, 1932

NEW YORK (AP)—Burt Shotton, manager of the Phillies, who attended this week's meeting of the National league clubs in New York, is going to cling tightly to Chuck Klein, his slugging outfielder, and to his promising young pitchers despite a continuous stream of tempting offers.

"We could have made trades and lost some of our pitchers for other players," said Shotton. "We didn't make those trades because we need the pitchers just as much as other clubs need them."

"How about your outfield?" No one covets for any part of that?" He was asked.

"That's an old story. Other clubs have been coveting for two years for Klein. I reckon we could have got players or cash for Klein any time. When we took him from the Port Wayne club some years ago I thought he was a block of ice because he was an awkward fielder and wasn't batting as he does now. Then he began to hit and he showed such great natural ability as a hitter that they opened their eyes."

A Dream
JUST suppose Hack Wilson does as well for Brooklyn this year as he did in Chicago in 1930. Then you could combine Hack's 56 home runs, 190 runs driven in and his batting average of .356; Lefty O'Doul's 172 hits and batting average of .336, and Babe Herman's 43 doubles, 16 triples, 18 home runs (with his batting average of .313), and they would all add up to one National League pennant.

Max on the Pan
General John V. Clinnin, president of the National Boxing Association, declares Max Schmelling is not a fighting champion, pointing out that since 1923 the heavyweight champion has engaged in only seven contests in this country. The seven fights were with Jess Willard, Billy Miske, Bill Brennan, Georges Carpentier, Tommy Gibbons, Louis Firpo and Gene Tunney. Of course they were bigger fights, but there was bigger money then, too.

Mum on Contracts
The members of one team in the majors draw salaries you may never know about. The team is the Athletics, and players have been told to keep these matters to themselves. Mr. Mack is believed to have made some drastic cuts in the payroll this year, but the only squawk came from Joe Boley, and his words were still echoing when it was announced he had been sold to Cleveland.

Dykes' Speech
Bill Dooley, seeking enlightenment for himself and his Philadelphia readers, approached Jimmy Dykes on the subject of terms. The conversation went something like this:

"Hello, Jimmy, howsa boy? Didja get your contract?"
"I think so."

"You think so? Mmmmm."

"Yeah, I do think so."

"Did you like the figures on it?"
"What figures?"

"Well, did you sign it and send it in?"
"To tell the truth, I can't say anything about it. We've been asked not to give out any information. Any news will have to come from the office."

"Well, the club won't say nothing."

"No?"
"No."

"Well, s'long, Bill, guess I'll be going."

"S'long, Jimmy, see you in Fort Myers."

From which you may gather that when Mr. Mack tells the boys to do something, they do it.

Blue Streaks Hang Up Win Over Fond du Lac; Score 3 and 2

Three hockey games have been carded for the weekend at the Jones park rink, according to John Roach, manager of the Appleton Blue Streak-Eagles sextet.

The first of the three will be with Waupaca tonight, the second will be with West Bend Saturday night and the third with Fond du Lac on Sunday afternoon.

Last night the Streaks went to Fond du Lac and won a 3 and 2 decision. The Appleton team out shot the Cads all evening Klutinger having 11 stops while the Fond du Lac goalie had 31.

Fondv scored the first goal and Helms tied it up in the first period. Then Babino put the Appleton team ahead in the second period and both team scored in the last period Helms got the last Appleton goal.

Several Blue players are showing with the Streaks this year and according to reports, are performing like veterans.

INDIANA CAGERS WIN FROM MARQUETTE, 30-18
Bloomington, Ind. (AP)—Led by Vic Dauer, a substitute forward who provided the fireworks in a fast breaking offense, Indiana university's basketball team defeated Marquette, 30 to 18, Thursday night.

A second half scoring spree that resulted from the best floor work the Hoosiers have mustered this season, snowed the visitors under after the Hilltoppers had trailed by but 4 points at the half.

With Dauer leading the Crimson sniping down the floor either for "lay in" shots or for short passes to his teammates, the Hoosiers scored 12 points in the first few minutes of the last half and then Coach Everett Dean pulled out his regular and coasted to victory.

An Honor For Bloons
Those Bucknell Bloons, although tied by Temple and Villanova in the 1931 football campaign, enjoyed their first undefeated season in 48 years, which is a long time if it's between haircuts.

LAWRENCE SEES CHANCE TO WIN FROM CARLETON

Northfield, Minn., Five Has Impressive Record This Season

NINE members of the Lawrence college basketball team and Coach Arthur C. Denney, who will act in the capacity of coach, manager, trainer and general supervisor, left this morning for Northfield, Minn., where tonight the boys will play Carleton college team. The game is a Midwest encounter.

Members of the Lawrence squad will be Colbert, Hall, Poota and Reack, forwards, Rafter and Felts, centers and Haase, Vanderbloemen and Gochbauer, guards. The team was routed over the Soo line to St. Paul and will take a bus from there to Northfield.

The strength of the Carls is pretty much a question but Coach Mack Diebold is known to have a strong aggregation. "Marsh," a former Wisconsin star, took his boys on a long road trip this fall and won a flock of games. Among the teams played were Chicago and Minnesota.

In Midwest competition the Carls beat Monmouth 40 and 25 and the Scots are said to have a great team.

Last year Lawrence played a sensational game of ball against the Minnesotans losing in the last few minutes when things went all wrong under a barrage of long shots. This year Coach Art Denney has frankly admitted that, if his boys play as well as they did against Marquette and Beloit, he can knock off the Carls.

COTTER, KRATOCHVIL SHOW AT SHEBOYGAN
Harold Cotter, veteran Kaukauna fighter will appear in the windup of the next amateur fight card at Sheboygan, and will draw Ernie Kratochvil, Racine, as his opponent.

The card is scheduled Tuesday, Feb. 18. Zep Traung, Manitowoc, tackles Marvin Christensen of Green Bay in the semi.

Marty Clement, Sheboygan, vs. Freddie Chyneweth, Manitowoc, at 135 pounds.

Casey Gregorich, Sheboygan, vs. Wolfe Gligler, Green Bay.

Ben Mrozek, Manitowoc, vs. Jack Gutkin, Sheboygan.

Bob Padner, Fond du Lac, vs. Heinie Markgraf, Sheboygan.

Johnny Lang, Fond du Lac, vs. Ray Kohls, Sheboygan.

Washburn college, Topeka, Kas., has scheduled a two-year home and home series in football with Fresno State college of California.

HOARDED MONEY NOW SOUGHT FOR U. S. SECURITIES

General Support of Public Needed by Bonds of Government

BY CHARLES F. SPEARE
Copyright, 1932, By Cons. Press
Wall Street, New York.—In President Hoover's statement Thursday recommending a nationwide campaign against the hoarding of money, the paragraph that attracted most attention in the financial district here was the following: "I urge all those persons (hoarders of money) to put their dollars to work, either by conservative investments or by deposit in sound institutions in order that it may thus return into the channels of economic life."

The suggestion that money withdrawn from banks and locked up in safe deposit vaults or hidden in various insecure places should flow back into the investment market, opens up a field of inquiry into the extent to which the "one talent man," so to speak, will be willing at this time to exchange his idle dollars for corporate securities. It also gives basis for a renewal of the agitation for arousing this same individual to an appreciation of the present integrity of all United States government securities and those that may be offered in order to promote the reconstruction finance corporation, as well as the excellent return now available on such investments or those presented in the future.

Favors U. S. Securities

It has been felt for some weeks that the American public should begin to be reeducated along the lines of investment in government securities. The present seems to be an opportune time. It will be necessary to issue large amounts of reconstruction corporation debentures if the requirements of business and of banking are to be met by this governmental agency. For years, nearly all of the subscriptions to new treasury obligations have been made in behalf of the banks or by wealthy corporations or individuals desirous of keeping a large portion of their funds in short term securities or in those possessing the highest of all credit ratings. The public has kept away from these issues primarily because prior to 1930, it was absorbed in stocks, and later because of the comparatively small income return which "governments" produced.

More recently, however, this same public has shown a revival of interest in government securities. This has come about as much from the attractiveness of the yields on United States bonds and notes as from a desire to make investments in issues having the best standing of any throughout the world. When treasury notes last month sold to yield from 4 1/2 per cent to nearly 4 3/4 per cent, dealers in them did their largest small investor business in years. Now that prices are better and yields lower, the demand is again negligible. While it lasted it gave a clear indication that the public, at a certain yield level, was willing to buy government securities.

Capitalists Luke Warm

A recent canvass of a considerable body of wealthy capitalists indicated that men of this type were not greatly interested in any proposed offering of reconstruction corporation debentures. Their objections appear to be based on the technical features of the proposed issue which, while unconditionally guaranteed by the government as to interest and principal are not on a parity with liberty bonds or treasury notes. The same point, it is believed, would

Who's News Today

BY LEMUEL F. PARTON
Copyright, 1932, By Cons. Press
New York.—(CPA)—Ogden L. Mills is Herbert Hoover's fiscal right hand. His elevation to the post of secretary of the treasury, announced at 10 o'clock Thursday morning, as Mr. Mellon is named for the court of St. James, is an easy and natural transition. Since his appointment as under-secretary by President Coolidge in 1927, he has been the young David to Mr. Mellon's aged Saul. Estimates of Mr. Hoover have said that he noted and remembered Mr. Mellon's hesitancy at Kansas City. He has relied greatly on Mr. Mills, who instigated and steered the debt moratorium, and other important fiscal policies.

Mr. Mills, an aristocrat, comes to his great eminence by virtue of his mastery of taxation and finance, rather than political sagacity. Charged with the task of leading the government's fight against the "one talent man" in 1926, he said: "There is not truth in the man in public or private life." In the sporting phrase, Mr. Mills measured Mr. Mellon for a one-two. So effectively did Mr. Mills make his private life a wide open issue that all other issues were obscured and Mr. Mills was smothered, swamped, erased and obliterated when the votes were turned in.

Only in his upper Fifth-ave "silk stockings" district of New York city has Mr. Mills been politically successful. Thence he went to the state senate in 1914 and to congress in 1920, the year of the Harding landslide. In the house, he was hamstrung by his political ineptitude but advanced by his diligence and his unquestioned ability in the field of public finance. Rich, assured, fastidiously tailored, socially eminent, he is no log-cabin statesman. His high-pitched oratory won him few friends. But he mastered his job, and in his term as under-secretary, reached with deft touch into the main springs of government.

He is busy and bulky and during his waking hours smokes huge cigars, tailored to his specifications at a dollar a throw. Racing stables, yachts, beautiful estates are mere incidentals in his deep absorption in his job. Even in political stature, he has been growing the last year or two and New York politicians look with satisfaction on his elimination as a possible opponent of Senator Wagner.

He was graduated from Harvard at 19, and became a New York lawyer. He is a nephew of Whitelaw Reid and great-great-great-grandson of Robert Livingston. Flying to Santiago in the wake of the earthquake, Harry F. Guggenheim, Cuban ambassador, still functions as the godfather of latter-day aviation. It was he who persuaded his father to establish the $3,500,000 Daniel Guggenheim fund for aeronautics. He encouraged Lindbergh to make his Paris flight. By airplane, he weekends in Washington.

At 41, he had converted a desert waste at Chuquibambilla, Chile, into a roaring copper town of 10,000 inhabitants. He withdrew from business to boost aviation. President Hoover made him envoy to Cuba in 1929. He moved the Havana legation out of its dingy headquarters into the magnificent palace of the Marquis de la Proclamacion. Exotic verdure and Castilian splendors make it one of the most beautiful homes in all the world. Chuquibambilla was never like this. He reads all the philosophers and saves the profoundest wisdom is to learn to "loaf and invite your soul." He was readied for his career by Yale and Cambridge.

The late Dr. Frank Crane, famous columnist, stood at the door of the imposing Wilshire boulevard church in Los Angeles with a hat full of money. "We demand that money!" shouted church officials, rushing toward him. "Remember, this is the house of God," said the Rev. Frank Dyer, descending from the pulpit.

CALLS APPOINTMENT OF MELLON 'PARDON' BY NATION'S CHIEF

Washington.—(AP)—The appointment of Andrew W. Mellon as ambassador to Great Britain Thursday was termed "a presidential pardon" by Representative Patman (D. Tex.), sponsor of impeachment charges against the treasury head.

"Of course," Patman said, "the impeachment charges now become an academic question. His appointment is equal to a presidential pardon while the jury still has the case under consideration and before a verdict is returned."

"This action practically dismisses the jury. You cannot impeach him if he leaves the office but while he continues as secretary I intend to push my charges."

Meanwhile, the house judiciary committee considering the Patman charges met in closed session. Chairman Summers declined to say what course the committee may follow.

Patman said today he possessed additional evidence against Mellon. He made public the following telegram he said was from the American legion post at Mineola, Texas: "We wish to congratulate you on securing the resignation of Mr. Mellon and getting him out of the country, but do not think you have gone far enough yet. England is too close. Get him sent to China."

A Finnish scientist is said to have increased garden vegetables, fruit and grain crops 51 per cent by electrifying the soil in which they were grown. Terminals buried in the ground carried the electrical current through the soil.

CHILD WELFARE BOARD PROPOSED FOR CALUMET-CO

County Board Will Consider Matter at March Term

Special to Post-Crescent
Chilton—Miss Virginia Stephenson of the state board of control has been in this city during the past week conferring with various officials in regard to the establishment of a child welfare board in Calumet-co. She conferred with County Judge George Goggin, District Attorney Edward Eick, County Nurse Florence Hosley, as well as with representatives of the American Legion, the county board and the Woman's club. Miss Stephenson believes a child welfare board is the best means of investigating cases of dependent children as well as illegitimate children, and she thinks that saving considerable money for the county. She told of the work being done along these lines in other counties and the results obtained. The matter will probably be brought before the March term of county board, and should such a Welfare Board be established, Miss Stephenson would devote considerable time in instructing its members in their duties.

A marriage license was issued by County Clerk John Brockner to Louis DeKarske of Chilton and Miss Lilian Peik of the town of Charles-town.

George Beach of Menasha, who was brought here Sunday night by sheriff C. B. Jensen for disorderly conduct at a dance hall in the town of Harrison, pleaded guilty in justice court before Justice John Hume and was sentenced to 60 days in the county jail and given a severe reprimand by the court. He admitted striking a dance hall inspector during an argument at the hall. District Attorney Edward Eick, in placing the facts before the court, said that the State would demand a jail sentence for all persons who molested or interfered with dance hall inspectors.

Mrs. James Millay entertained at one series of chain parties at her home Wednesday afternoon. Four tables of five-hundred being in play. The prize was awarded to Mrs. John Hephner. The next one of the series will be held at the home of Mrs. James Overhill. These parties are being given for the benefit of St. Augustine.

Mrs. R. C. McGrath entertained at a chain party at her home on Wednesday afternoon. Four tables of bridge being in play. Prizes were awarded to Mrs. J. J. Goggin and Mrs. John Hall. Mrs. George Hume will entertain the group in three weeks.

G. M. Moriarty entertained the Ladies Aid society at her home Wednesday afternoon. The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Louis Orthlieb.

Mrs. C. D. Egan and Mrs. A. L. Braunman were in Milwaukee Thursday to attend the funeral of their cousin John Schaefer, who died Monday.

CITY WILL OFFER TOXIN TREATMENTS

Program for Entire Month Outlined by City, County Health Officials

(Special to Post-Crescent)
New London—Thursday of next week will mark the beginning of the administration of the toxin-antitoxin treatment to children in this city. The work here will be done by the health officer, Dr. F. J. Pfeiffer, assisted by Miss Hazel Nelson, Waupunaco nurse, and Miss Loreta Fick, city and school nurse in New London. Four centers have been announced and the hours for the administration are as follows:

Thursday, Feb. 11, 13, 25, 9 o'clock at McKinley school.

Thursday, Feb. 11, 13, 25, 1 o'clock at Lincoln school.

Friday, Feb. 12, 13, 25, 9 o'clock at Catholic school.

Friday, Feb. 12, 13, 25, 1 o'clock at Lutheran school.

According to Mrs. Barton, who has aided in the service given to thousands of children in the county, the treatments do not cause illness. Out of the great number to whom the treatment was given there was, with a few exceptions, no resulting confiditue. Some complained of a slight itching in the arm, but there was no illness. Three treatments are given which are sufficient to ward off diphtheria.

All parents are urged to be prompt and to bring all children from six months to school age to their respective schools. These treatments are given without charge, due to the appropriation made by the Waupunaco board. The county health committee designated the health officer to give the treatments in each locality, providing this officer is a physician. If he is not then a physician appointed by him does the work.

LENA QUINT WINS FROM F. W. D. TEAM BY SCORE OF 25-20

National Guards at Clintonville Defeated by New Franken Black Hawks

(Special to Post-Crescent)
Clintonville—The F. W. D. basketball team of this city lost to the strong Lena team Wednesday evening in the local armory by a score of 20 to 25.

The score at the half was tied at 15. During the last period, both teams played nick and tuck until the last few minutes when the visitors sank three baskets in quick succession.

Wonderash of Lena led the scoring with 15 points to his credit.

In the preliminary game the F. W. D. office team nosed out the Business team by a score of 27 to 24. This game was very closely contested, the score at the half being 11 to 10 in favor of the F. W. D.'s. Those playing for the business men were J. Larson, J. Kuester, G. Dilley, J. Kirsch, M. Marshel, H. Schauder and G. Martin. The F. W. D. office team consisted of Abner Fredenberg, J. Kihner, S. Plowers, H. Danmer, G. Prisch, C. Smith, Richardson, Sinkewicz and Roy Fredenberg.

National Guards of this city were defeated at New Franken Tuesday evening 25 to 13. The Guards held the New Franken Black Hawks until the final quarter, when the Hawks stepped out for a victory. A return game will be played at the local armory Feb. 19.

The car belonging to Herbert Lichtenberg, who resides near this city, was badly wrecked early Wednesday evening when it was struck by a car owned and driven by Lloyd Schelder, route 5, Clintonville. Neither Lichtenberg or Schelder were injured by the crash, but the horses received minor bruises and the front of the car was considerably damaged. There was a lantern on the rear of the sleigh which Schelder mistook for a more distant city light.

The collision occurred a few rods from the south city limits on Highway 26, when Lichtenberg was coming to take out a sleighride party composed of young people from the Congregational Sunday school.

As a result of the accident, the sleighing party was changed to a hiking party.

The car belonging to Melvin Taylor of this place was destroyed by fire Sunday evening when it slid down and tipped over in the town of Lebanon. No one was injured in the accident.

NICHOLS TEAM WINS GAME FROM PULASKI

Special to Post-Crescent
Nichols—The Nichols basketball team defeated the Holy Name society team from Pulaski Friday night by the overwhelming score of 65-12. The visitors could not break up the Nichols offense and most of the boys were "on" when it came to shooting baskets.

On Tuesday night the first and second teams went to Stevensville where they met the teams representing that village. The regulars won from the Stevensville first team by a score of 32-24. Nichols led throughout most of the game and piled up enough points in the last quarter to offset a rally which the Stevensville team put on at the end of the third quarter. In the preliminary game the Nichols second team lost to the Stevensville second team by a score of 16-20. Nichols led through the greater part of the game but weakened in the last two minutes and allowed their opponents to score three baskets, enough to tie the game.

On Friday night of this week the Sobieski city team will play in the Nichols auditorium.

MAKE TEACHER SURVEY ON SALARY DECREASES

Madison—(CP)—In an effort to determine whether demands for a slash in school teachers' salaries are justified by the decrease in living costs, the Wisconsin State Teachers association has mailed questionnaires to 8,000 teachers throughout the state.

A survey committee is asking the teachers to state whether their items of expense have increased, decreased, or remained the same for the present school year as compared with the year 1929-30.

"I fail to see why teachers should be singled out from other municipal employees for wage reductions, as has been the case in many Wisconsin cities," Bart E. McCormick, secretary of the association, said.

The survey committee said the teacher's salary was the last to respond when prices increased, and that it is not high in proportion to the salaries of other gainfully employed citizens.

"Teachers will be willing to share in the burdens of the economic depression but they should not be compelled to take more than their share of the burden," the committee said. "There is no reason why their salaries should be cut before or out of proportion to the salaries of other municipal employees."

CHINESE AIR FORCES LED BY AMERICAN

General Chang Hui-Chang Is Bert Hall of Higginsville, Mo.

BY SHERMAN B. ALTICK
New York—(CPA)—Over in China in the thick of the fighting is Gen. Chang Hui-Chang. They call him Gen. Chang, and he is commander-in-chief of the Chinese air forces, but his name isn't Chang at all, and he isn't even Chinese.

Gen. Chang originally was a Kentuckian, and his home now is at Higginsville, Mo. In the United States and in practically every other country of the world, the head of the Chinese air service is known as Bert Hall. During the World war as a member of the Lafayette escadrille, this air fighter bagged 20 enemy planes, and received official credit for nine. There is no telling how many additional will be added to his crop if the Sino-Japanese conflict continues.

During the World war he crossed tracer bullets with the most ardent of the Germans produced, and he came out able to answer roll call on all but a few occasions. He is one of the best flyers in the Orient.

Hall has been Gen. Chang since 1929, but only his relatives and his closest friends knew it for a long time after he had adopted the Oriental name. Since then he has slipped from one command to another as various Chinese factions came into power.

Joins New Group
Only last summer, according to a letter received here by Lieut. John J. Niles, who first met Hall when they both were flying in France, Gen. Chang took seven of his best pilots and deserted the Nanking government to become head of the air corps of the Canton government.

His friends are watching developments closely across the Pacific, for they know that Bert will be found wherever there is fighting, and when last heard from he was headed in the direction of the trouble.

Gen. Chang was one of the original organizers of the Lafayette escadrille. He is aviation's first real soldier of fortune. He started when airplanes were still in their infancy and has battled under half a dozen flags. Before the World war, Hall had drifted to Turkey, where Abdul Hamid was fighting the Bulgars, and became the Turkish air force—he was the only flyer—at $100 a day. Later he shifted over to the Bulgarian side, when the Turks cut his pay. He was in Paris when the guns started booming in 1914 and promptly enlisted in the foreign legion.

In December 1914 Hall's name was put on the roster of the French flying corps. Hall and Bill Thaw are the only survivors of the original seven American flyers who formed the Lafayette escadrille.

Now after more than 20 years of airplane adventure, Hall is found again in the midst of a big conflict, and in the thick of it. He is in his late forties.

Colorado contains 43 mountain peaks which are more than 14,000 feet above sea level.

She Had Nervous Prostration

"It helped to Save My Life"

"I REALLY believe that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound helped to save my life. Owing to bereavement I was reduced to nervous prostration. I could hardly bear anyone to speak to me and I had to lie down most of the time. Nothing seemed to help me until I read about your Vegetable Compound. From the very first it helped my nerves and I slept better. Your medicine is all you claim for it."—Dora Hohstadt, 220 North Main Street, Memphis, Missouri.

EX-MUD VILLAGE IS CENTER OF BALKAN DIPLOMATIC ACTS

Nine-year Old Rebuilt Capital Is Finding International Prestige

Angora—(P)—A mud village nine years ago, Mustapha Kemal's rebuilt capital is now finding a place in the sun of international prestige. Soviet Russia, Italy and the Balkan countries are sending envoys and invitations to Angora, courting the favor of the young republic of Turkey.

Close on the heels of the second Balkan conference, which held its final meeting here, the soviet's commissar for foreign affairs, Maxim Litvinoff, sped to Angora. Russian knows that if a Balkan federation is formed, Mustapha Kemal will probably be its president.

He is already the biggest figure, with Eleutherios Venizelos of Greece a close second, in the affairs of the Near East and the Balkans. The second Balkan conference had scarcely ended, in fact, when simultaneous invitations came from Rome and Moscow to the Turkish premier, Ismet Pasha, requesting the honor of a visit.

Turkey is no bashful debutante in diplomacy. She accepted both invitations. May 1 has been definitely set for the arrival of Ismet Pasha in Moscow, and he will be accompanied by Tewfik Rushdi Bey, the minister for foreign affairs.

Turkey's premier is shrewd and active. He recently made friendship-cementing visits to Athens and Budapest and is expected to fortify Turkey's already strong position when he calls upon Mussolini and Stalin next spring.

The Balkan powers also have not been slow in recognizing the significance of these developments. Close on the heels of Litvinoff the Bulga-

BIRTHS

A son was born Thursday to Mr. and Mrs. Clair Hollenbeck, 1235 W. Commercial-st., at St. Elizabeth hospital.

ARMS DELEGATES' POWER LIMITED

Only 20 Delegations Have Right to Sign Disarmament Treaty

Geneva—(P)—Only 20 of the 57 delegations attending the world disarmament conference have power from their governments to sign an eventual disarmament treaty.

France, on whose attitude the success of the conference may depend ultimately is the only great power, however, which has not given her delegation such authority. The position of Germany, Poland and ten other countries is indefinite and as a result the conference has asked for a precise definition of their powers.

The United States, British, Japanese, Italian, Russian, Argentine, Mexican and Panama delegations are fully enabled by their governments to sign an agreement. The delegations of Brazil, Canada, Costa Rica, Cuba, Bolivia, Chile, Uruguay, Venezuela, and Honduras are not so authorized. It was considered probably today, however, that these governments would give their delegations more authoritative credentials when the time comes to sign.

Rumanian prime minister came to Angora.

His conversations here may have paved the way for establishing diplomatic relations between his country and Russia with Turkey acting as intermediary.

Appleton Bound Speaker Hurt in Train Crash

Here is a view of the wreckage of the "Empire Builder," transcontinental flyer of the Great Northern railroad, which recently crashed with a Milwaukee road freight train at the intersection of the lines near Wahpeton, N. D. The firemen of both trains and the engineer of the freight were killed, and 20 persons were injured. Among those who are in the hospital at Wahpeton with injuries is Harry Lashkowitz, Fargo, N. D. president of District Grand lodge No. 6, B'nai B'rith, who was on his way to Appleton to address the Fox River Valley lodge of B'nai B'rith at Odd Fellows hall here last Sunday afternoon. I. D. Padway, Milwaukee representative of the district lodge, spoke in Mr. Lashkowitz' place.

ALEUTIAN ISLANDS VOLCANO STARTS TO SHOW FIREWORKS

Seattle, Wash.—(P)—Old Mother Nature's teakettles in Alaska are blowing off steam again.

Activity of the Aleutian volcanoes, almost never entirely quiescent is so common natives pay little attention, except when the display becomes spectacular.

Reports from Squaw harbor, 150 miles east of Unimak island, indicate this year's volcanic activity may be more interesting than usual.

Shishaldin is reported in the most violent and spectacular eruption in many years, with huge quantities of lava pouring down its uninhabited slopes and smoke and ash scattered over Bering sea by a strong wind.

"The volcano presented a beautiful display of fire works after dark day before yesterday," a radio message sent out by Joseph Nasensius, an amateur radio operator at False pass, said.

Nasensius was one of the few persons to see the spectacle, because of the isolated nature of Unimak island. His messages were picked up at Anchorage, Alaska, last night.

RAILROAD TO ASK LOAN FROM FEDERAL GROUP

New York —(P)—The Pennsylvania railroad, its president, Gen. W. W. Atterbury, has announced, will apply for aid from the federal reconstruction finance corporation to enable it to complete an improvement program requiring about $5,000,000 a month.

Atterbury has not stated the size of the loan to be requested, but said that a "reasonable sum" will be asked. The cost of the program has been estimated at $175,000,000, more than half of which is for the electrification of the lines.

DEPRESSION IS WORRYING FRENCH BUSINESS PLACES

Prices Are Low and Many Daring Devices Are Tried to Stimulate Trade

Paris—Shadows of the world-wide depression are rapidly gathering over France, which has lately kept reasonably clear of and seemed secure against the crisis. Gold was pouring into the country, the exchange was firm and high prices were maintained. But now confidence is severely shaken and there is a general feeling of nervousness.

The unemployment situation, regarded as negligible six months ago, is increasing in gravity and more credits are being demanded from the government for relief. It is estimated that there are close to half a million workers out of jobs, and about three million working on part time. All lines of business are suffering.

The fall of the pound has had rapid repercussions. Others good customers on the continent, which have departed from the gold standard, have contributed to the stagnation of trade, and many thousands have been thrown out of work because of unprofitable markets. Protective measures, such as increased duties, have had little effect in stimulating native industries.

The luxury trades have suffered most. Famous dressmaking houses have been forced to cut salaries and reduce their staffs to the minimum. Prices have been brought down to the point where it hurts to do business.

Adding to the discomfiture of the swanky dressmaking houses, designers with during ingenuity are offering model frocks for $6, and they have successfully invaded the aristocratic Champs Elysees shopping center. They offer first class material and cut to each client's measurements, tacked up ready for sewing. They put on the familiar collection parade, give fittings for a trifling extra charge and make alterations. All measurements are, of course, standardized, but allowances are made in material so that a client may easily fashion the gown to her own lines. All the arts of the dress-making business are employed to provide women with smart costumes at the very lowest price. This is something of an innovation in Paris.

Better-Class restaurants are reverting to fixed table d'hote prices, often with wine included, which promises a return to the good old days before the war.

Hotel owners are worried. Business has fallen off alarmingly owing to the expense of travel and the comparative high prices here. There is little optimism about the prospects of tourist business which normally should start in the spring.

There are many indications that the thrifty Frenchman is going back to his well known woolen stockings as a safe refuge for his savings. The dearth of small coins in circulation has become such that the Chamber of Commerce of Paris has complained to the ministry of finance, with the result that orders have been given to supply cashiers and business houses with small change. The conclusion is that these coins are being hoarded.

PLAY 4TH SESSION OF BRIDGE TOURNAMENT

Dr. and Mrs. W. J. Frawley and Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Frank won high honors in the American and National leagues, respectively, in the fourth round of a 10-session contract bridge tournament at the Elks club last night. The tournament is sponsored by the Appleton Contract Bridge Players' association. Second honors in the American league were won by Royall LaRose and D. R. Morrissey, while second honors in the National league went to Mr. and Mrs. D. P. Steinberg. At the close of the 10 sessions the champions of each league will meet for the city championship. There are 32 players entered in the tournament.

It is estimated that French exports to Britain have suffered to the extent of $50,000,000 because of the temporary tariff on British imports and the prospect is even more serious unless a reciprocal trade treaty can be reached before further duties are imposed or retaliatory measures made necessary.

MILLS GREAT INFLUENCE IN U. S. CONGRESS

Regarded as Biggest and Most Active Man Behind Hoover Regime

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

Copyright, 1932 by Post Pub. Co.

Washington—Back of the appointment of Andrew W. Mellon to be ambassador to Great Britain is the story of the remarkable position won by Ogden L. Mills, who becomes the new secretary of the treasury.

Mr. Mills was one of the earliest Hoover men in the last campaign. He accepted with good grace the fact that his superior did not retire with the end of the Coolidge administration but stayed on at the head of the treasury. Then he proceeded to work just as hard as if he had full power in the treasury. And Mr. Mellon gave his undersecretary such full sway that in the last few months it has been commented upon in Capitol Hill that the biggest man and the most active behind the whole Hoover administration was Ogden Mills.

Mr. Mellon's age and quiet manner worked against his assuming a fighting position in the battle between Mr. Hoover and congress. But Ogden Mills relished it. He was one on the ways and means committee himself. Outspoken, frank and persuasive, the undersecretary has spent many hours at the capitol and has won friends among the Democratic members.

A Democratic senator, who must be unnamed, said recently that he believed Mr. Mills one of the most capable officers the government had had in many years and that his knowledge of the treasury and fiscal problems was amazing in its detail and scope.

Liked by Reporters

Most of the newspapermen formed a favorable impression of Mr. Mills during the moratorium negotiations last summer. He took them into his confidence and discussed the most delicate phases of the problem with an ease and yet with a clarity which few had observed since the days when Charles Evans Hughes unfolded intricate problems of diplomacy in the department of state's relations with the press.

Mr. Mellon has looked forward to retirement from the treasury, but not until Mr. Mills captured the situation and revealed his grasp of the fiscal problems of the government did Mr. Mellon feel that he could leave.

There was always, notwithstanding Mr. Mellon's own preference, a feeling on the part of bankers and business men that the aged secretary was a bulwark of confidence and that his resignation would be viewed as a sign of weakness in the Hoover administration.

Now, however, Mr. Mellon goes to another field of service at a time when international finance and the settlement of European problems have a direct bearing on America's economic future. Mr. Mellon was abroad during the moratorium negotiations last summer and relished the contact with European statesmen. Prior to this, he had considerable experience with foreign envoys in the days of the World War debt funding commission. Mr. Mellon is amply able to care for the social side of the London portfolio, which always requires a man of considerable means. Recently, too, when Henry Fletcher was being mentioned for the post, it was suggested that Pennsylvania had not had the ambassadorship to Great Britain in many years.

Experience to Help

Mr. Mellon's business experience will enable him to cope with the economic questions which are so dominant in foreign diplomacy today. He will be buttressed by an able staff in the embassy who can take care of the diplomatic details and guide him in the amenities. With all due respect to the men who have won their way upward in the diplomatic service, the fact remains that successful American business men do make good ambassadors, whether it is a Republican or Democratic administration that sends them abroad.

Charles G. Dawes, who has just retired as ambassador to Great Britain, is a banker and his knowledge of the reparations problem has been especially helpful to the American government. This type of question is one which the experienced business man can tackle with relative ease.

Mr. Mellon will be at home in London; Mr. Mills will be at ease in the treasury. The exchange ride the administration of some things in congress and at the same time puts at the helm of the treasury someone that congress rather likes. The Hoover administration will benefit by the transfer on Capitol Hill and in Europe.

BAR FORECASTS ON FARM CROPS PRICES

Experts Differ Sharply on Outlook for American Farmer in 1932

Washington (AP)—The agriculture department will make no more public forecasts on the probable course of prices for farm products.

The decision was reached because of pronounced differences among its experts on the 1932 farm outlook, and in the light of inaccuracy in past predictions. The only announcement of the new policy has come from the bureau of agricultural economics.

The bureau, under its present policy, makes no public forecast of the probable course of the farm situation.

By contrast a year ago the bureau issued an outlook report citing prospect for gradual recovery in domestic demand for farm products in the last half of the year, "based on the belief that the world-wide economic depression will have run the worst of its course by the summer of 1931."

The divergence of opinions on the 1932 prospect showed itself in the annual conference held last week of federal and state economists. Some saw very cheerful signs, others were pessimistic. The department decided to play safe.

EVERY WOMAN
faces this question

"How do I look to other people?"
If you have a lovely skin, attractive eyes, and plenty of enthusiasm, you need not worry.

So many women, though, risk their beauty by neglect of constipation. It often causes loss of pep, sallow skins, dull eyes, pimples.

Yet constipation can be overcome by eating Kellogg's ALL-BRAN. This cereal provides "bulk" to exercise the intestines, and Vitamin B which tones the intestinal tract. ALL-BRAN also supplies iron for the blood.

The "bulk" in ALL-BRAN is much like that of lettuce. Special cooking processes make it finer, more palatable. It is not habit-forming.

Surely this is safer than abusing the system with pills and drugs—so often habit-forming.

Two tablespoonfuls daily will correct most types of constipation. If your intestinal trouble is not relieved this way, see your doctor.

HELPS KEEP YOU FIT

OUTAGAMIE QUALITY PASTEURIZED SWEET CREAM BUTTER

It's the Very Finest Butter
You Will Find Anywhere!

NOW—we are making a new Butter — made exclusively from rich, fresh Sweet Cream. The strictly fresh cream is separated, pasteurized and churned the same day it comes to our dairy. This process imparts a quality and flavor to the butter, that is NOT found in other butters. You'll like its distinctive better taste. Do not compare Outagamie Sweet Cream Butter to ordinary butter as this butter is far superior to anything you have ever been offered.

Once you try the New Outagamie Pasteurized Sweet Cream Butter — you'll never be satisfied with anything else.

February--The Month Of Sales - - -

THIS WEEKEND WE SUGGEST: —

A Fancy CAPON, raised by a member of the Wis. experimental association especially for our market. Or if you prefer a Spring or Yearling Chicken.

Drastic reductions, sensational bargains, opportunities for saving, confront us everywhere. This is the month when most merchants tidy up their stocks and start preparing for the next season. This is the month when they offer good merchandise in many cases at less than it costs them.

Now at Voecks Bros. this is impossible. There is no season or fashion dictating styles in meat. Each meat market sets its own style, and that is its standard of quality. That is why Voecks Bros. meat is never offered at "Greatly Reduced Prices". That is why day in and day out Voecks Bros. offer you only the highest quality selected meats, poultry and sausages. That is why Voecks Bros. meat sometimes costs a few cents more than ordinary meat, because the quality is so much better, and there are no poor cuts.

BOY CRAZY

by GRACE PERKINS

SYNOPSIS: Hope Ross, "the prettiest, richest, and most envied girl in town," has learned, at 17, how to have a good time. Her father spoils her and her mother has given up trying to mould her. A parade of admiring boys follows her, to the jealousy of her less attractive sister, Goody. Yet Hope is never contented. She is constantly in the trail of new clothes, new amusements, new excitements. She leads her gang on madcap escapades. Mrs. Ross urges her husband to try to curb Hope's extravagances. "I didn't behave that way when I was Hope's age," she says, "Hope is boy crazy." Mr. Ross refuses to be alarmed. He is more than able to pay for Hope's fun, and has provided an enormous estate in Westchester County for her homecomings.

CHAPTER 2

"LOVE IS SO TRIVIAL!"

I TRIED to get Hope to promise not to drink until she was twenty-one," Papa Ross remarked. "Said I'd give her that swanky roadster she's been talking about. But it didn't work—exactly."

"The way you spoil her, she knows she'll get the roadster anyway," sniffed Mrs. Ross, unimpressed.

Papa Ross stared at the dull Chi-nese rug, and wondered about this. "At any rate," he turned back to his wife. "Hope has promised me not to drink until Christmas. Provided she can give a house-party up at Lake Placid for the holidays. I said she could have six couples. Kinda fun, Mother—eh?"

"Howard—that's just the way you ruin her. If you—"

"The whole point of this argument being," Mr. Ross rose briskly, and tested his chin for stubble with the tips of his fingers, "are we going to the theater tonight or aren't we?"

"No!" chirped Mrs. Ross with a toss of her white bobbed hair. "No. The Morans, the Thompsons and the Wrights are coming over to play bridge."

If the promised Christmas party at Lake Placid was to be limited to six couples, Hope's seventeenth birthday party, a month after this unsettling talk, was an open house verging on a free-for-all.

On the broad fifty-foot veranda, in the back of the house overlooking the hills of Westchester, with its tiny toy trains far in the distance, still carting weary commuters to cozy homes, with the stretches of a golf course two miles, barely visible in the cryptic dusk of late September, some eighteen girls and thirty-six boys gathered to celebrate in their own charming and inimitable way, the additional year in Hope's gay and selfish little life-line.

By six o'clock of a glorious Indian summer Sunday, the circular driveway of the Ross estate might have been an amateur automobile show were it not for the jarring note of two or three decrepit Fords, and whispered in the coming darkness never again, they sighed; never again would this thoughtless, spoiled child enjoy the complete triumph of undisputed queenly reign.

(She is young, gurgled the narrow brook nervously as it rushed and leaped over the stones of the rock gardens, anxious to hurry on and away from the scene of coming sorrow. She is young, persisted the brook endlessly as the moon light beat down on its splashing current.)

(Yes, she is young, winked the red and yellow and green lanterns glowing in the trees. That mother and father think they know her so well, and they cannot dream the depth of her untouched and unshaken little heart. . . .)

But the trees and the flowers, the broke and the lanterns hadn't a chance. A five-piece orchestra, set up on the terrace after the lengthy business of teasing, quite drowned out the warnings. "Once in a Blue Moon" whined the orchestra, as any good orchestra would whine in 1924.

"Once in a Blue Moon, you will meet the right one . . ."

Bang! went the orchestra, Clarinet whining and laughing—a painful, hysterical laugh, against the piano keys telling of wordless secrets and giddy heartbreaks.

Hope was fluttering about, talking in a bubbling stream.

"Hell, Rusty, you big schnozzle, listen. There's to be a Christmas party at Placid. Shh! We're not telling everyone. I can only have six couples and Goody has to come. So that makes only five couples really. I'm asking you, Rusty, not because you're an outstanding favorite, but because my folks expect me to ask you. They have an idea, Rusty, that I'll marry you some day. Isn't it a scream? Maybe I will, when I get old and toothless, and have five divorces. Don't propose to me again, Rusty—love is so trivial, and I want to be serious tonight. . . ."

"Let's go down by the tennis court and cool off. There's nobody down there. . . . Oh, isn't there? Look at Judy Hunt with Roger! Making up with him! I never thought she'd do it. Oh, yes, it's because of the football games. He's on the Harvard team, and Judy wants to go with the hero half-back. Listen, Judy has designed a half-back evening-gown. She wants to go and wear it. I suppose. . . . Isn't she a lark? Of course, Judy's coming to Placid. Isn't Judy my grandest friend in the world?"

"Let's go back to the party, Rusty, they'll be missing us. Well, I have to care if they miss us because I'm the hostess, and besides Dad might get sore if I'm not under his nose. Well, if you must kiss me, kiss me on the back of my neck."

DRAWING OUT MONEY TO SPEND CARELESSLY MAKES YOU LOSE YOUR BALANCE AND FALL INTO DEBT!

will soon become a majority—these facts make a German policy of national resistance inevitable.

France vs. Germany
These are considerations lying outside the immediate world crisis and they are conditions that will continue to exist when the crisis is alleviated. It may be true that reparations and international political debts have accentuated the world crisis, but there is no indication discoverable in Germany that their cancellation would affect for any considerable length of time the key question of Europe, namely the relationship of France to Germany.

This relationship is that of a weaker nation holding down a stronger nation in the sense that the potential military strength of Germany is stronger. She has a larger population, better industrial equipment and her national characteristics are better adapted to the requirements of a technical epoch.

The French demand for security indicates that the French suspect this. The Germans are confident of it. Germany is determined to re-establish military equality as an essential condition of her national self-respect. France is determined to maintain her present military superiority as an essential condition of her national existence. As the National Socialists put it, "The war of liberation stands at the end of a policy of national resistance."

Would Doom Treaty
Cancellation of reparations is not the goal of the German policy. Cancellation of the Treaty of Versailles is the goal. American criticism loans to Europe and American private loans to Germany may influence but not decide the struggle. The capitalized value of inter-allied debts to America is about $5,000,000,000. The approximate value of our private investment in Germany is about $3,000,000,000.

We may be forced to sacrifice the $5,000,000,000 and still have thereby to save the $3,000,000,000, but there is no evidence that the sacrifice will achieve the savings. For the real "smoke screen" around Germany and around Europe is the argument that the insecurity of foreign investments in this Continent is due solely to reparations.

Insecurity is due in the first and last line to the fact that the Treaty of Versailles was too lenient or too harsh. Like every other treaty that has punctuated the centuries-old warfare between France and Germany, it failed to settle the struggle for power. Neither France nor Germany ever had a Jenghis Khan to head its armies and make its peace. There is not the faintest sign that this struggle for power will cease even though it should be suspended for as long as the forty-three years of peace from 1871 to 1914. The only phases in the struggle are chronic phases.

In chronic phases foreign investments in Europe are safe. In acute phases foreign investments in Europe are used to promote the struggle. This is an acute phase, and there is no reason to believe that cancellation of inter-allied debts and reparations would not be utilized by both sides to improve their instruments in the struggle for power.

Goal Ever the Same
In the light of this struggle may be judged every important inner as well as foreign political move of Germany. To establish a republic helped Germany in regaining her feet when President Wilson and the Allies blamed Kaiser Wilhelm for the war. If the Republic proves the more effective political framework for Germany it its struggle against France, the Republic may remain. If the Republic proves an inadequate vehicle for resurgent national forces of Germany, another form will be chosen and Hitler has it ready. For the moment the Republic under Chancellor Brüning promises to be as obdurate against France as Hitler could be.

If Dr. Brüning keeps these promises, only continued decline of the economic condition of Germany can improve Hitler's vote to the decisive 51 per cent. His greatest showing in a local election since 1930 has given him and his allies, the German Nationals, about 40 per cent. He has virtually devoured all parties except the Communists, who are impervious to Hitlerism on philosophical grounds, and that part of the Social Democrats organized in trade unions, impervious on religious grounds. These parties still have about 60 per cent of the population. Hitler will not come to power in person unless further growth of unemployment, or inflation, or some desperate condition dislodges the necessary extra 11 per cent, hitherto impervious, the Communists, the Social Democrats and the Catholic Centrists. Hitler already is in power in every respect important to the outside world, since the other condition for his remaining out of power in person is that the Government pursue his policy of resistance against France.

War Danger Grows
Unless the United States is prepared to throw its whole force with sufficient weight to tip the scales on one side or the other in the Franco-German struggle, American initiative in the international debt problem could only temporarily shift the balance of forces in the struggle.

Nobody expects this struggle to eventuate in war at once or in the near future. But nobody has offered credible testimony that the potentiality of war, its threat, will not grow under circumstances existing between Germany and France. Neither France nor Germany wants war. Neither knows how to prevent its menace from paralyzing the public confidence of Europe, upon which all trade and financial life are built.

The chief theoretical safeguard between Europe and the violent culmination of the struggle of power is the League of Nations. A report now has been printed that the League has been forced once more to postpone construction of its palace at Geneva, planned before the League's chief antagonist, the Soviet Union, conceived its famous Five-Year Plan. At the same time it has been announced that the Soviet Union had announced its second Five-Year Plan, which is sure to call for the same incredulity that was evoked by the announcement of the first plan, now nearing fulfillment.

Adolf Hitler, the most vigorous proponent of German confidence, has announced that it should be the political duty of Germany "to see that within 100 years 250,000,000 Germans live as worker peasants on this Continent." European vital statistics are no argument that Hitler's goal can be attained.

European vital statistics cited by Investia, however, indicate that the 372,000,000 inhabitants of Europe outside the Soviet Union had a natural increase of 3,200,000 in 1928, while in the same year the 152,000,000 inhabitants of the Soviet Union had a natural increase of 3,600,000. With less than one-half the population, the Soviet Union increased by 400,000 more than all the rest of Europe.

Screened by distance from Europe's irremediable disorder, America may regret her financial maleness, her present and prospective losses. She may be thankful for the Atlantic Ocean. There is no ocean between Western Europe and the Soviet Union.

MINNESOTA LUMBER INDUSTRY DECLINES

"From Logs to Toothpicks," Old Timers Say—Plan Reforestation

Cloquet, Minn. — (AP)—Oldtimers will tell anyone who cares to listen that lumbering in Minnesota has declined—from logs to toothpicks. It has to a certain extent, modern mill superintendents agree. Lumberjacks poled more than 400,000,000 feet of board lumber downriver per year, their more modern contemporaries turn out millions of toothpicks daily from a factory here.

The old saw-log camps have been replaced with wood products and mills. Factories; and in large forests of first stand white and Norway pine have been supplanted with farmers' woodlots.

Today the Weyerhaeuser Forest Products company had arranged to sell 18,000 acres of cutover land in northern Minnesota for payment of delinquent taxes to insure perpetuation of farm woodlots and a source of the aspen, spruce and balsam for wood products factories.

Aspen, jack pine, and second growth trees were scorned years ago when lumbering was Minnesota's second largest industry but now they are widely utilized.

Besides matches, countless match boxes, spoons, wood utensils, barrels, clothes pins, and pulpwood products are turned out yearly.

While lumbering, in a broad sense, still is kept alive in Minnesota by such factories the state conservation commission has prepared to launch a reforestation program designed to rehabilitate the industry. But oldtimers are not overly sanguine. It's a big jump from tooth picks back to logs.

"FIRST LADY" OF SPAIN REFUSES TO BASK IN LIMELIGHT

Dona Pura Castillo de Alcala Zamora Is Devoted Mother

Madrid—(AP)—Home sanctity and the inviolable pursuit of routine household affairs are the bulwarks behind which Dona Pura Castillo de Alcala Zamora, "first lady" of Spain pursues a tranquil domestic career. Shortly after the inauguration of her husband as constitutional president of the new republic, Dona Pura let it be definitely understood that her public life would be rigidly restricted to occasions when she might be required to appear by her husband's side.

Newspaper folk since then have found her housewifely instincts more than adequate ramparts against the lure of the printed page. Some private charity work in the small towns of her native province of Jaen occupies the intermittent attention of the president's wife.

However, her main pursuit is the administration of a family home graced by the president and their six children. Nicolet, Jr., 27, the oldest son, holds a law degree and is preparing for a professorship in Madrid university. The other sons, Luis, 19, and Pepe, 17, also are law students but with home needs that require the diligent attention of their mother.

OPEN NEW PROSECUTION AGAINST M. K. MARKMAN

Oshkosh—(AP)—New prosecution of M. K. Markman, head of the Wisconsin Drawn Steel corporation, Appleton, has been started in municipal court here as a result of objection to the original complaint by defense counsel James H. McGilgan, former Green Bay judge. Markman is alleged to have made a false financial statement to W. G. Brown of the National Manufacturers bank of Neenah to obtain a loan of $10,000. He waived arrest in the new case and preliminary examination was set for Feb. 12. Objection to the original complaint was on the ground that the details of the charge were not set forth.

DEVELOP REED GRASS ON DRAINED MARSHES

Madison—(AP)—Preliminary results secured during the past year on drained marsh soil in Portage-county indicate that Reed canary grass, a perennial native grass, offers promise to the farmer who is cropping overflow or drained marsh land, the University of Wisconsin college of agriculture announces. The seed was planted June 2, 1930. In 1931 the broadest seedlings average 2500 pounds of dry hay per acre at the first cutting, while that planted in rows averaged 4156 pounds. Fertilization with 500 pounds per acre resulted in a yield of 4770 pounds per acre for the first cutting. Reed canary grass produces a heavy growth which becomes a good winter crop for weeks.

STAGE STARS OF BROADWAY HELP FELLOW ACTORS

Serve in Kitchen of Actors' Dinner Club Where Jobless Eat Free

BY PAUL HARRISON
New theatrical projects along Broadway is packing 'em every evening, involves a score or more of the biggest names on the American stage, yet isn't making a dime of profit. For it isn't a play, but the Actors' Dinner Club, where working members of the profession pay 50 cents, and jobless members pay nothing, for all the good food they can stow away.

The enterprise is successful because it is feeding hundreds of unemployed actors and actresses without cost—even to their pride. Admission is by ticket, and neither Colonel Earl Booth, director and playwright who doubles as maître de hotel, nor anyone else at the dinner club knows whether a dime has been paid for his ticket or has received it free from one of the distributing agencies.

An Ironie Joke
Near the door, welcoming each guest with a smile and personal greeting, is Selena Royle, one of the founders of the club and actress-daughter of Edwin Booth. Royle, playwright, she thinks it's a grand joke, it's a somewhat ironic one, that her own show folded up the other day and left her with plenty of time to devote to this enterprise.

The idea came to her and Mr. and Mrs. William Sauter several weeks ago, and was laid before the Equity Association, the Actors' Fund of America, and the various actors' guilds. Everybody approved. Somebody had to feed the "at-liberty" members of the proudest profession.

The Rev. C. Everett Wagner, staunch friend of the theatre who already was serving tea daily in his "actors' lounge," contributed the auditorium of his Union Methodist Episcopal church, in the heart of the Broadway show belt.

Everybody Helped
Jobless actors and carpenters and painters remodeled the place in a few days. Dr. Wagner donated extra church pews which were arranged in clubby fashion at the tables. China and silver came from managers and producers. An artist labored long on a huge mural for one wall; the Players' Club donated an attractive back drop for another. Broadway florists sent flowers every night, and other tradesmen contribute part of the food.

So there is an atmosphere of real elegance about the big room when it is filled with candle light and tables crowded with well-dressed diners. "Actors, of course must dress their best as long as they have a dollar left," one of them explained. "For our livelihood depends on looking every night, and other tradesmen contribute part of the food."

An uninitiated observer never could separate the paying "patrons" from the non-paying "guests." That vivacious little chorus girl sitting next to Daniel Frohman, the veteran producer, hasn't had a job in three months and is practically living on the one free meal a day furnished by the club. The austere oldster across the table is not a wealthy manager, but a jobless dramatic actor, who owes four weeks rent on his fourth-floor-rear bedroom.

They All Work
And so on from table to table—some starring, some starving. This blue smocked waitress, who wants to work for her meals, has served every night since the club started. The next waitress is Helen Hayes, and Catherine Cornell, now seated at her table, will don the smock tomorrow night.

Ont in the kitchen you'll probably find a couple of your favorite actresses washing dishes. Shiny noses, bedraggled aprons—they don't care. They're troopers.

Men work just as hard, but they're more often behind the scenes as kitchen aides, cloakroom attendants, bus boys. Only the chef of all the 40 earnest workers, is on the payroll. On Monday nights, however, Edward la Roche, a French actor, comes early to the club and painstakingly compounds onion soup.

They'll have to find a new boss of the cloakroom in a few days, for the old one, Edward Cushman, is going on the road as stage manager for Walter Hampden. A number of performers, too, have got booking through acquaintances made at the dinner club. Miss Royle herself, who soon is to go into rehearsal again, is working to perfect a permanent organization that will function with out her full-time aid.

Although only about half the diners are able to pay for their meals, and then only 50 cents each, the enterprise is actually self-supporting. With free labor, no rent, and occasional donations of food, the meager income is sufficient for second and third helpings for everybody.

"Big Names"
Seven evenings a week, about 300 performers check old man depression at the door and gather there on equal footing. Many of the names that appear in lights on Broadway are found here almost every night. Everybody greets Uncle Dan Frohman, honorary president of the executive committee, who has pre-empted a big leather chair near the doorway for his after-dinner cigar.

Walter Connelly, Helen Hayes' leading man, is a frequent patron, the reason being that Nedra Harrington, who is Mrs. Walter Connelly in private life, is waiting tables. Dorothy Gish takes her turn at juggling dishes. Tina Claire tells about the night she spilled a tray of soup and received a round of rousing applause.

Katherine Cornell and Ethel Barrymore, in blue smocks, display solicitude for the gastronomic whims of a vaudeville booking agent. Margalo Gilmore trims a tableful of

EX-CONVICT AIDS OLD PRISON MATES IN PENNSYLVANIA

Henry G. Brock Is Appointed Trustee of Eastern Penitentiary

Philadelphia.—Henry G. Brock has gone back to prison.

But this time it's not as a despairing convict, starting through barrel cell windows at bleak gray walls, but as a respected member of the Board of Trustees. The wealthy banker and clubman did not forget the men he left behind him when he was discharged from the Eastern State Penitentiary of Pennsylvania.

A mad careening automobile killed three persons as it crashed into a pole at a dangerous street intersection.

Henry G. Brock staggered from the machine to the pavement, only dimly aware through the haze of a brew-befuddled brain of the horror of the tragedy which stirred this community.

A few weeks later, penitent and subdued, Brock came before a court with his counsel, Owen J. Boberst, now a Justice of the U. S. Supreme Court.

He pleaded guilty to murder which the court fixed at second degree, and was sentenced to a term of six to ten years in the Eastern State Penitentiary.

That a woman companion and not Brock was driving his car on the fateful night was a matter of public gossip. Her identity or her part in the crime was never divulged. It is now generally believed, because Brock believed in a gentleman's code.

Headed Back
Over the destinies of the Penitentiary behind the walls of which he served three years and two months of his term, Brock will now preside with others as a member of the
